THE PEOPLE'S TRIUMPH.

A Perpetual Injunction Against the City Officials.

An Order to this Effect Granted by Judge Barnard.

The Announcement Received with General Applause.

Decided Action of Our German Citizens.

Proceedings of the Joint Investigating Committee.

City Laborers Again Clamoring for Their Pay.

As the great injunction case, in which the tax-payers in the person of JOHN FOLEY are plaintiffs, against the Mayor and others of the Tammany Ring are defendants, approached its close, the interest of the public at large became still more intense. The session of Judge BARNARD's closing address on behalf of the tax-payers, yesterday, presented renewed and conclusive evidence not only of the intense public interest which the proceedings excite, but also of the fact that the great preponderance of public sympathy is with the plaintiff, and those whom he represents in this struggle. While counsel for the defendants made their lament and in the main able defense, without one single symptom of applause, Judge BARNARD, in the course of his masterly argument, was again and again interrupted by the loud and earnest demonstrations of the crowded audience that listened to him. The youngest of all the counsel engaged in the cause, opposed by a large array of counsel much older, and among the most eminent at the Bar of this State, Judge BARNARD completely demolished one by one the specious and ingenious points presented on behalf of the defendants, and closed a triumphant vindication of the rights of the plundered tax-payers, made in an address lasting over three hours, and listened to throughout with the gravest attention by both Court and audience.

On the bench, during the proceedings, were Assistant District-Attorney FELLOWS, Judge PHILLIPS, and a number of the Bar of Mississippi. The home-thrusts of Judge BARNARD's argument in relation to Mayor HALL, as a mere stamping-machine for the countersigning of warrants, and also in relation to the gilded halls and brilliant diamonds of the Ring, awakened repeatedly the applause of the audience. Judge BARNARD, in delivering his opinion, was also repeatedly applauded at those points where he referred to the robberies practiced in the City Government; and at the close, as he announced that the injunction was made perpetual, he was greeted with a perfect storm of applause, which no efforts of the officers of the Court could suppress.

REMARKS OF MR. BARTLETT.

When the Court opened, Mr. BARTLETT arose and addressed the Court in behalf of Mr. TWEED. He urged the same arguments advanced by Messrs. O'GORMAN and BEACH in support of the defendants. He paid a high compliment to the literary ability and energy with which the TIMES was conducted, and while admitting that a newspaper was the proper field for the discussion of charges of malfeasance in office, he maintained that in a Court of justice, and on its decisions, partisan spirit and partisan politics should be altogether excluded.

EX-JUDGE BARNARD'S ADDRESS.

Judge BARNARD then proceeded to deliver the concluding address in behalf of Mr. FOLEY. He observed that it was his intention to treat the case solely on its legal aspect, and to speak simply as a lawyer addressing the Court. He could not, if he would, rival the oratorical splendors of his opponents. Beautifully, indeed, had they covered their clients with flowers of rhetoric, and he honored them for it, for what custom was more beautiful than the decoration of graves. [Laughter.] In the plaintiff's position calm and temperate speech was due not only to the Court and to the justice of his case, but, to the majority of the people at large, for his supporters here were not conspirators or partisans, as they had been most audaciously described on the other side, but they were in reality good and honest citizens in our midst, and if our people be indeed the vox Dei, his client was encouraged by good men and by the smile of heaven. Proceeding to establish the facts set forth in the allegations of the complaint, he pointed at the relevancy of of the first ten sections of the bill, which has been already published in the TIMES, and their bearings upon the Two per Cent act, maintaining that it was not intended to imply a right to spend more than the money thereby specified, and was utterly opposed to the most extravagance and frightful maladministration of our City rulers. The Board of Supervisors interposed an answer to this bill of complaint, in which they admitted the averments of the complaint, with the single exception of one of the facts charged against them, that they were about to issue further bonds. They admit every act of fraud charged against them, and he asked did it become their servants to deny the allegations and presume to be wiser than their masters? And in this admission the names of the defendants, TWEED, HALL and CONNOLLY, were impertinent to the record. These men thought they were wiser than the law, and now they consider themselves more powerful than the municipality itself. But the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty themselves admitted every fact charged in the bill by demurring. It is a shameless confession of guilt. Did the Mayor deny the charges of fraud stated in these ten sections in reference to the Keyser, Ingersoll, Genet and Sweetzer bills? Every charge of fraud was made, as grave and terrible a one as was made in a civilized community against a public officer, but the Mayor shields himself behind an absurd technicality and refuses, by advice of his counsel, to controvert them, thus really admitting, in connection with the Board of Supervisors, his complete guilt. In addition to these bills, payments were made upon claims of persons who did not exist, and thirty-nine thousand warrants were signed without a question regarding their correctness. These acts are specially admitted, but are defended on the plea of ministerial duty. In this connection Mr. BARNETT quoted the opinion of Judge BARNARD in the case of GREEN vs. FERNANDO WOOD, then Mayor, (reported, in 26 Barber, 453,) in regard to the signing of bills, in which it was stated that a failure to examine into their correctness was the most convenient and efficient instrument of extreme oppression and robbery. [Applause.] That was the language of justice and truth, and in opposition to the action of the defendant, HALL, which was nothing better than a stamping-machine. By the charter of 1870, it became incumbent on the Mayor to exercise vigilance in protecting the financial interests of the City. Yet he comes into Court with this paltry plea, and endeavors to conceal his offense. Was it an answer to the complaint of the people that he was compelled to sign these thirty-nine thousand warrants? To fall back upon his municipal position in reply to the allegation was an insult to the common sense of the citizens of New-York and the clearest confession of guilt. Nor was it an answer to say that the time of the Mayor was consumed in literary or professional associations, and he boldly asserted that if greater attention was paid to his official duties, there would be no necessity to institute the present proceedings. Mr. CONNOLLY interposed no answer, and his affidavit was the clearest ground, at least, whereby one was read in behalf of the defense. It distinctly and unequivocally proved the falsity of the affidavits of TWEED and CRITCHLOW, and criticised the answer of Mayor HALL. The Board of Apportionment, the Court was aware, was appointed to find out and set apart the amount to be raised by taxation, and when they had raised the amount fixed, they were to set apart out of it a sum necessary to pay the interest and the principal of the debt falling due from taxation during the current year, the quota of the State tax, and such sums as they were to set apart among various departments and for the various purposes of the Government. But what had they done under that? He cried in every conceivable way to ascertain, but it was in vain, and instead they bring in garbled and insufficient extracts from the minutes of the Board, which show that at every meeting they have done nothing, but issued bonds and warrants. What have they done with the taxation? If they believed the defendants, TWEED did nothing else but comply with the law. He says as plainly as man can do on his oath that he has done the very thing which Mr. CONNOLLY says he has not done, and what HALL says they did six weeks ago, and what the minutes of the Board of Apportionment say they did not do till the day before the injunction was granted. [Laughter.] Counsel here read the affidavit of Mr. TWEED in full, strongly commenting on the discrepancies existing between it and the affidavits of the other deponents, observing that when viewed in its relation to the statements HALL and CONNOLLY tendered, it could only be considered as entirely unreliable. These defendants had not thought proper to enlighten them as to the real facts, as they alone could do by producing the minutes of the Board. If there was shame, doubt, why did not they set it right? They had the power to produce the minutes, but on the advice of the Corporation Counsel they deem them impertinent to the issue and refuse to produce them. If their purposes were candid, he asked, why was this cunningly devised affidavit produced? Court, and the full minutes, which would reveal the entire truth, withheld? The extract itself proved that it was drawn up to suit this particular case, and was not a correct synopsis of the proceedings of the Board. He contended that the production of these minutes would explain the absolute and conflicting statements of TWEED and CONNOLLY, and their failure to produce them when they had the power to do so, should reflect to the injury of the defendants. Counsel then at considerable length and with much argumentative power, referred to the repeated refusals of the President of the Department of Parks to consent to the passage of fraudulent claims, and proceeded to review the criticisms made in the pleading. The counsel on the other side had addressed the Court on various points, but they did not seriously deny the figures advanced by the plaintiff. They were put before the Court clearly and distinctly, and there was no attempt to answer or controvert them. Instead, jest and sarcasm were employed, but were these the answers to the allegations? The complaint had been lampooned and ridiculed, but the facts had not been touched, and they remained unanswered and unanswerable. The learned counsel (Mr. BEACH) admitted the expenditures as monstrous and enormous, frightful if so would, but the miserable tax-payers and conspirators ought to be proud to give their money for such magnificent results. Look at your county, embellished by the product of this debt and its expenditure. He called attention to the Central Park, to this noble building, [laughter,] he called attention, he believed, to the most beautiful armories of the City, [great laughter,] but he did not call attention to other magnificent embellishments, such as their private gardens, or their stables, [continued laughter,] the product of this debt. He did not call attention either to the embellishment of their private gardens, or their superb equipages, the astonishment of Central Park. After arguing the case eloquently and learnedly at very great length, with the view of showing that there had been maladministration, the learned gentleman concluded with this brilliant peroration: The clouds are, indeed, lifting, as my friend, Mr. O'GORMAN, remarked, and the people begin to see the sun at last. Ah! that glorious sunlight of truth. What power can resist, what force defy it? It penetrates the darkest recesses. It lays bare the corrupt and slimy places, and prevents and destroys the loathsome dwellers therein. The same beneficent rays clear and purify the moral atmosphere, and fill, and cheer, and inspire every honest breast. It is a patient, long-suffering, proof-demanding people, this people of ours, but once filled with this light, once completely convinced and thoroughly aroused, a most determined, avenging, justice-demanding, fire, dangerous people. They are not to be hood-winked nor trifled with, and they cannot be lightly appeased. Their condemnation is slow and sure, but once pronounced, final, and without appeal. Nothing can change the settled conviction of the people with respect to these defendants—not all the verdicts of all the Committees, sham or real, weak or earnest—not all the certificates of the richest or even the purest of our citizens—no, not even the judgment of the highest and most trusted tribunals in the land. Fully realizing at length how they have been abused, ridiculed, plundered and trampled upon, the people are aroused, as my learned friends fear, both indignant and determined, and once, almost maddened, but only so for the want of that speedy, complete and adequate justice which is their due. What they ask of you, Sir, and what it should be one of the proudest moments of your life to grant, is but a drop in the ocean of their just and inflexible determination. But for the present it is at least within your power in one particular direction from further wrong and outrage. Grant that small particle of salvation, you who have the power. Do not fling this outraged people in desperation from your presence, and from the portals of justice. But save them, Sir, save this people, whose honored servant you are! Save the great charter of which you are a trustee and leader, and, above all, save the cause of justice, which is in its last asylum, and making its last appeal. [Loud applause, which was continued for several minutes.]

JUDGE BARNARD'S DECISION.

Judge BARNARD then gave his decision as follows: I am of opinion in this case that the plaintiff is a trustee for the people, and has a right to maintain this action. In regard to the point that was raised by the counsel for one of the defendants that the act was unconstitutional, I should not, sitting at Chambers on a motion of this kind, declare an act to be so unless I was very clear that such was the fact. I have no such clearness in this case at present, and I should not like to take any responsibility, preferring it should be heard in a more mature and careful way at General Term. The plaintiff then, having a right to sue in this action, commences a suit against four defendants, officers of the City Government, asking, among other things, that they and the Board of Supervisors be enjoined from raising any tax in the year 1871, until such time as certain things have been done. Second, that the defendants be ordered to meet as a Board of Audit, and do certain things. Third, that the Board of Supervisors be restrained from auditing or doing anything until the Board of Apportionment and have made certain appropriations. Fourth, that the present Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty be prevented from incurring any expense, &c., unless a sum shall be set apart for that purpose. Fifth, that the Controller of the City of New-York be restrained from paying any claims or money in any case, or paying any debts or bills for the New-York Printing Company, the New-York Leader Association, or any of them. Sixth, that the defendants' counsel be restrained and enjoined by injunction from raising or paying any moneys on behalf of the County, &c. The complaint also had charges of conspiracy on the part of three defendants, by combination, collusion, delusion and fraud, to obtain the payment of dishonest claims from the City and County Treasury, and doing various other acts to cause a wrong and perpetrate acts of fraud. That allegation is made on information and belief. There are three defendants, Mr. TWEED denies positively that there is any truth whatever in the allegation. Mr. CONNOLLY makes denial in the same way; and Mr. HALL, Mayor of the City, denies it, in language equally as strong. The amount of belief that is to be attached to the statement thus made against the defendant, HALL, can be weighed by a statement that was made by counsel for the people, who last addressed the Court, that he didn't believe that he was interested in any of these associations, papers, &c., charged against him. Right here, gentlemen, comes in a point of law, "that where an allegation is made upon information and belief on one side, and positively denied on the other side, it is taken in favor of the person denying the charge, unless there are other facts and circumstances tending to discredit the person making that positive" denial. The three defendants are also charged with having run the City in debt, having incurred past liabilities and corrupt claims and demands against them so far in excess of the legal and proper appropriations made by the Legislature. Their answer to that was [that the Two per Cent. law didn't repeal all the laws previously existing for the purpose of raising revenue in this County. In that I differ with them. I think that the Two per Cent. act repealed all the laws except those laws that gave those parties power to raise money, and gave no power to raise bonds to them as such. That was given to the Department of Parks and the Department of Docks; therefore, the expenditures that they may have made will not be taken into the two per cent. If there are any expenditures made over and above the Two per Cent. act amounting to more than realized therefrom, it would be a proper cause for an injunction. The Departments of Docks and Parks have a right to issue bonds whenever in their judgment it may be necessary for the purpose of carrying on the proper duties intrusted to them by law. No suspicion or allegation of fraud has ever been raised against them, as far as I can find out, either from the allegations here—from any statement that the Court can take judicial knowledge of. There is another allegation in the complaint, that large claims, amounting to several millions of dollars, have been paid to persons who had no existence, who had no legal demand or claim whatever against the City, or any right to recover it. That allegation in the complaint has not been denied, as I understand, by any one of the defendants in their answer.

Judge BARRETT—Yes, Sir.

Mr. BEACH—I don't wish to be understood as assenting to the answer of the other counsel.

Judge BARNARD—My recollection is that it is so.

Mr. BEACH—I may be permitted to say to your Honor that it is denied by each of the defendants that there was any knowledge of the fraudulent character of those claims. In my argument yesterday I had the honor to submit that statement.

Judge BARRETT—Ministerially denied.

Judge BARNARD—Before the preliminary injunction was granted in this case, it became necessary to see whether under the word "expenses" of the Government of the City and County of New-York it was the intention to stop all work on the public parks, docks, streets, wharves, piers, &c., and all the counsel seemed to agree with me in saying that that was not the intention. And I then said, as I shall rule to-day, that the parks and works, charities, car, Croton Water, Police, Health Department, Board of Docks, and salaries, are not included in this injunction.

Mr. O'GORMAN—How as to paving?

Judge BARNARD—I am coming to that. In regard to the "pay debt" the persons who may be employed by the authorities, gas, education, Health and Croton Water Departments, and paying all proper salaries, that money was supposed to have been raised—to have been in the Treasury—and the supposition is, that not having been paid to the proper parties entitled to it, it is there now. If the money has been paid out wrongfully, then it must be replaced, the laborers must be paid, and if the parties have paid it out wrongfully they must be held responsible and not the people. [Great applause.] That brings us then, gentlemen, to the last allegation in the complaint. It is charged against two of the defendants, the Mayor of New-York and the Controller, of having paid dishonest claims, knowing them to be such. The Controller of New-York is its financial officer; he is intrusted with the auditing and paying of absolutely almost all bills, even after the rendition or recovery of judgment. He has the power under the laws to appeal, until such time as the Court of Appeals, the last resort, shall say whether it is right and proper to appeal. He has, indeed, prompt and supreme power, and it is upon him, more than upon all the other officers, that the people rely for their protection to prevent fraud. It is not possible to perpetrate a fraud or have a dollar taken from the Treasury if he sees that the bills of his office are properly looked after and carefully audited. It is no excuse for a Controller, as the head financial official, that his subalterns may have deceived him. It may be possibly pardonable but it is nevertheless a crime. In the payment of these various fraudulent claims—some of them of an outrageous and atrocious character, bearing on the face of them evidences of being little better than highway robbery—it was his business to have examined them extremely carefully, and have looked at the vouchers and satisfied himself personally that the charges made were correct, and that the services were performed. And therefore, when he failed to do that, he failed to do his duty, not only to himself, but also to the citizens, and he was guilty either of the commission of a crime, or a criminal act of negligence. [Loud cheers and applause.] In regard to the duties of the Mayor he states that his duties are measurably mechanical, that he signs the warrants as they are presented to him by the Controller, and although that may have been the practice—and I presume it has been for many years past to sign checks without looking at them that came from the Controller—I know myself, that when one of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, I signed checks for millions, relying on the statement of the Controller, HAWES. That has been the practice for many years, yet the community expect, at least they hope, that wherever an act is required to be performed by three or more persons, in the certification of bills, that they should rely not on any one, but examine for themselves. He states in his affidavit that in the vast multiplicity of business it was impossible for him to have done that, and that he had to place reliance on the Controller in carrying out the custom that had been in existence in this City for fifty years, in doing that which everybody else had done. Still, gentlemen, the payment of these bills by the Controller, under the circumstances, and the raising of bonds by the Board of Apportionment, will not justify me in saying that the papers will authorize me to find that they are entitled to the confidence of the Court—a confidence sufficient to justify me in permitting them to go along any more, and expend any money belonging to the City Government so long as the Board is constituted as it is now,—having failed in consequence of their omission if not commission to secure its confidence. I am compelled to say that it is my duty to see that not another bond is issued or dollar paid until such time as there shall be some change in that Board. [Cheers and applause.] It might be said in consequence of the granting of this order, the tendency will be to disorganize the City and County Government. With that I have nothing to do. I have nothing to do with the employment of men connected with the Government or with their payments. I have a plain, simple duty to perform, one that certainly is not pleasant to me, but one which I can't avoid, and which I cannot shun, and that is, whenever a proper case is presented to me for an injunction, it is my business to grant it. In this case it has been said that there was a remedy for the purpose of trying the charges against the Controller. I know of no such remedy, and wherever a remedy is not given for the purpose of the interest of the community which has been robbed, it is the duty of the Court of Equity to interpose a remedy and promptly execute it. If there had been no remedy at all in this case, the Court would have been justified to resort to any means in their power for the purpose of checking it, inasmuch as the Court had stepped in and exercised the power of injunction to prevent the continuance, to prevent all irregularities indiscretions and crimes. Its tendency would not have been to affect the credit of the City, and that is one thing that all have at heart. Whether it is the old man who has been all his life accumulating property, and who is ready to depart into another world, and who is willing to give his offspring something or another as a heritage, or a middle-aged man who has all the responsibilities of time still upon him, or the infant in its cradle—all have an interest in the City of New-York, and look for relief to prevent its credit being impaired. This injunction is granted. [Great applause and cheers.]

Mr. O'GORMAN—Of course, Sir, the order that your Honor has made will be strictly obeyed by the Corporation and by its officials. But let me ask your Honor if I entirely understand it upon one subject. Is there any objection, as the law appears to your Honor, against the issue of assessment bonds payable out of assessments on property-owners for local improvements?

The COURT—No, Sir. It is not considered a debt. It is a loan of money of the citizens.

The Court to Judge BARRETT—Now, in the settlement of this order, Judge BARRETT, if you will serve on the other side a copy of your order, and let them serve the proposed amendments, I will see to it some day during the week. [Great applause.]

The Court then adjourned.

How the News Was Received.

The glorious tidings of Judge BARNARD's decision reached the public ear at a time when everybody was either on the point of going home or had already gone. This, combined with the drizzling rain that had fallen steadily all day, probably prevented any immediate demonstration of enthusiasm on the part of the merchants, brokers, bankers, &c., who throng Wall-street and its vicinity. But the popular feeling was so intense when the news reached the up-town hotels that many gentlemen remarked that it reminded them of the war times. In spite of the disagreeable weather, the halls of the Fifth-avenue Hotel were densely crowded with gentlemen eagerly talking in groups. The most inattentive listener could hardly fail to catch parts of sentences about TWEED & Co., and BARNARD, and the NEW-YORK TIMES, which were in everybody's mouth like household words. Here and there groups would form round some energetic man, who would lay down the law to his friends as to the effect of the injunction and what was to be done next. One stout individual with a plum-colored velvet coat and a dotted hip, shouted, "I tell you what it is boys—we muthn't chop here; we muths go right on, and thettle them now that the rule of Four 'ill broken. TWEED and CONNOLLY are thinutned. Good, now let uth thmath HALL and HILTON and TWEEDY." "Oh, you mustn't touch SWEENY," remarked a bystander, "he is a true son of the Church, and no matter who loses his skin, PETER B. will save his, you may bet your bottom dollar." In other groups other men attempted to explain the laws under which the Ring would endeavor to shelter themselves, and many joked about being rid of them cheaply after all. At the St. Nicholas and the Grand Central, the same crowds were visible, and conversation of the same character could be heard.

Interview with Judge Barnard.

A reporter of the TIMES called upon Judge BARNARD at his house after dinner, and had the good fortune to find him at home. He was welcomed by the Judge with the affable courtesy of a perfect gentleman, and invited to speak with full freedom. He asked the Judge what would be the exact effect of the injunction, to which his Honor replied:

"I granted the relief asked for in the sixth paragraph of the injunction, which was to restrain the Controller, Mr. CONNOLLY, from raising money in any way in the name or on the credit of the County and City, from paying any money except for legitimate salaries, and the running expenses of the City, and from using the money already levied or raised for any other purposes than those for which it was destined."

REPORTER—How will it affect Mr. TWEED.

JUDGE—It will prevent him from raising or disbursing any money, save for the Croton Department.

REPORTER—Will it put a stop to the water-meter fraud, and to the acceptance by the Department of the untested meters.

JUDGE—Certainly it will. Whoever is concerned in that must stop where he is, as regards the City.

REPORTER—Can you tell me how it happens that $1,000,000 should have been granted for these water-meters in 1871, when in the TAX LIST of the previous year it was decided that the citizens should pay, and that the meter should be a lien upon the property.

JUDGE—I am not acquainted with the law of 1871, in which occurred the order for $1,000,000.

REPORTER—It was in the MAYOR's defense.

JUDGE—Possibly, but that was so very voluminous that it might have escaped my attention.

REPORTER—But at any rate the injunction suspends the meter business.

JUDGE—Oh, most decidedly.

REPORTER—May I ask what you think will be the effect of your injunction on the Democratic Party.

JUDGE—I really cannot say, for though I belong to that party, yet in this instance I have acted simply from my conviction that the public have a right to all the protection I could afford.

REPORTER—Did you say that the people had a right to a little attention from OAKEY HALL, even in his ministerial duties?

JUDGE—I may have, but I do not remember. I know that I said the people had some rights which politicians were bound to respect.

REPORTER—Can you tell me, who are the heads of the Democratic Party in New-York, now that TWEED and SWEENY are out?

JUDGE—No, I really cannot. It is a mystery which time alone will solve. But I do not look at this matter from a political point of view.

The reporter finding that His Honor did not propose to be more communicative, bowed and withdrew.

Facts and Rumors Around the City Hall.

The busy tongue of rumor, so far as the City Hall is concerned, appears to have become suddenly silent. The storm of yesterday kept every one away from the Hall that had not business to transact, and the usual crowd of loungers, idlers and quidnuncs was missing. The Mayor did not arrive until a late hour, and he was spared the visits of the usual throng that awaits his advent, for yesterday not a single visitor called on him.

Messrs. PHELPS, CUTTING and other members of the Investigating Committee had another long interview with Controller CONNOLLY, the purport or result of which was not made known. The Committee's expert, Mr. WARREN, was busily at work with his clerk all day, and it was said that a report on the City and County debt would soon be forthcoming, but finally the clerk to the Committee stated that the documents could not be got ready, and that it would not be given out until next week. Nearly all the documents asked for by the Committee have been sent to them, and are piled up in their office.

The announcement that Judge BARNARD had made the injunction against the members of the Ring perpetual came at too late an hour to cause any excitement around the City Hall. Most of the offices were closed before the good news was made public.

More City Cheaters.

A large number of laborers again assembled, yesterday, in the vestibule of the new Court-house, demanding arrears of pay for work on the Croton pipes. They numbered about 300, and made no demonstration whatever, simply waiting until they could hear something definite as to the time when their money will be ready. This, it was stated, would be today. There are about 1,000 of them, and they have been employed on work of a different kind to those laborers paid off yesterday.

The Joint Investigating Committee.

Mr. BOOTH, the Chairman, and a number of the members of the Subcommittee appointed to examine the County and City accounts, were present yesterday at or about the Controller's office, apparently busily engaged in pursuing their investigations. Messrs. KENNEDY and OSBORNE were closeted with Mr. DURHAM, the stock clerk, at the further end of his sanctum. The Supervisors' rooms, where accountants were at work, were closed, and admission was denied to all. The Committee have not yet agreed upon the time for their daily meetings.

The Committee of Seventy—Secret Meeting Yesterday.

The Committee of seventy met yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce. It was reported that resolutions had been adopted upon the reports of the Subcommittees, but nothing specific was communicated for publication. The Committee will hold meetings daily if necessary, until they accomplish the objects for which they were appointed.

THE GERMANS MOVING.

Meeting of the German Republican Central Committee—The Ring Denounced—Resolutions and an Address to the German Democrats.

The German Republican Central Committee, Mr. WM. GELLMANN presiding, held a crowded meeting at the Steuben House last evening, when the Executive Committee presented a report, embracing an address and resolutions in reference to the corruption in the City Government, which were adopted by an unanimous vote. They are as as follows:

The earnest endeavors of the citizens of New-York to bring to justice the robbers of our substance and our ballots, and to force them to disgorge their ill-gotten plunder, rightfully occupy the public mind, and the moment seems to have arrived when all good citizens, postponing mere party issues, should combine to inaugurate such measures and laws that shall make the recurrence of similar events an impossibility. In view of these facts, the German Republican Central Committee of New-York deems it a duty to issue this declaration, hoping thereby to express the unanimous conviction of all German-American Republicans of New-York. We repose the fullest confidence in the measures inaugurated by the citizens of New-York, irrespective of party, and earnestly pray that those men intrusted with the execution of the resolutions adopted at the Cooper Institute meeting may be enabled to solve the political part of their labors at the ensuing election with energy, discretion and success. Under this assurance, and the conviction that, at the present time, it is the duty of every genuine Republican citizen to sacrifice mere party interests upon the common altar of the public good, we firmly declare that neither party discipline nor national prejudices shall debar us from giving our votes for such candidates only who combine unquestioned honesty with independence of character and have the best qualifications for the discharge of duties to devolve on them. We confidently expect of the Republican State Convention, as well as of the other Conventions to be held under the auspices of the Republican Party in this City and County, that (properly esteeming the important exigency of the moment) they will, in their resolutions, and by their nominations, conclude that all minor differences and interests must now be disregarded, and that but one purpose must be the goal, that namely—of freeing this City, and by its State and nation, from the yoke of those most unscrupulous scoundrels who have disgraced the offices they hold, and to give this Metropolis a charter founded on an Election law that shall restore to us the purity of the ballot, secure for us a perfect system of self-government, vouchsafe a rigorous supervision of the City Treasury, and avert the dangers that now threaten to swamp our system of public schools. We gravely contemplate the deplorable fact, that—even at this juncture of our crisis—Republicans, laying claim to consideration as honest and earnest men, should be induced by the tools of Tammany to maintain dissatisfaction and strife within the ranks, we trust that the State Convention may now and forever put a stop to this shameful spirit of factionism, by adopting energetic measures; and we do not hesitate to unsparingly denounce as traitors all those who should refuse to co-operate in harmony with all for the overthrow of the common enemy, thereby serving only the interests of the vile misrulers of the Tammany cabal.

In addition, the following appeal to the German Democracy of this City, having reference to the prevailing corruption, was presented by the Executive Committee, and adopted:

To the German-American Democrats of New-York:

Natural advantages, as well as the industry and public spirit of her citizens, would have made New-York the greatest, richest and most beautiful city of the globe, had these abundant means not been abused by unscrupulous public officials for the promotion of personal interests.

Our City taxes are unendurable burden, the City Treasury is empty, and the City debt has assumed gigantic proportions.

Our Judiciary has forfeited the esteem and confidence of the public, our Mayor surrenders the inalienable right of free assembly, the Controller renders no account of his stewardship, the Police tolerates gambling hells, lottery dealers and houses of ill-fame to continue their nefarious trades without molestation. Our streets are not cleaned, and on the shores of our beautiful rivers lard and glue-rendering establishments have purchased the right of poisoning the pure air of heaven, thereby destroying the health of our children. The taxes exceed the income of the working man, and force him to remove to neighboring States. Successful crime, however, flaunts in gilded coaches and yachts, and revels in diamonds and display. Public morals have been undermined; the sense of justice has been deadened, and the growing youth of the City has accustomed itself to do honor to the shrewd and successful public plunderer, and to detest honest toil and industry. We have become convinced that this state of affairs can only continue so long as we are disunited; we have also become convinced that differences between Democrats and Republicans on views and means to attain one common end only exist in the relation of the citizen and State to the common country. In municipal affairs this relationship has no existence whatever. Character, ability and industry, must therefore be our exclusive care in the future selection of City officers. If we propose effective reforms in the administration of the affairs of our City, now an object of pity and contempt among the citizens of the Union. While we—German-American Republicans positively declare that we do not propose to argue with you on our political differences,—both parties existing for the attainment of the common end—we now invite you, like men and brothers, born on the same soil—as fatherland—to co-operate with us in all coming municipal affairs of Government—let us advise together who are the best candidates for municipal offices, and let us thus only vote for such as we select. Too long has our common support been given to party men, on occasions that needed no party representatives. The German-Americans having attained their present proportion in the population of the City, we can well unite to prove that German influence shall only be given for the just and able. We appeal to you, German-American Democrats, not as party men, but as German-American fellow-citizens, and as citizens of New-York. We ask you for a candid reply, in the interest of offended law and outraged morality, and to avert the threatened ruin of our City, to the glory and pride of which we German-Americans have in common shared to contribute.

By order of the German Republican Central Committee.

On motion of Dr. GEBKE, it was resolved to present a copy of the address to the German Democratic General Committee, and a committee composed of Drs. GEBKE, NAUMANN and LEOPOLD WEIL was appointed to do so. The Committee subsequently proceeded to Germania Hall, in Third-avenue, where the Executive Committee of the German Democratic General Committee was in session, when the document was formally presented to the leaders of the German Democracy.

Twentieth Ward German Independent Movement.

The German citizens of the Twentieth Ward, without distinction of party, assembled last night at Munzuyer's Hall, Nos. 147 and 149 West Thirty-second-street, for the purpose of organizing themselves into a political associate power in opposition to Tammany Hall and the present City Administration. The meeting was large and very respectable. Mr. JACOB SCHONENBERGER was elected temporary Presidents; C. E. HARTMEIER, temporary Vice-President; WM. JULIEN, Secretary; ADAM KOELER, Treasurer.

The Chairman, Mr. SCHONENBERGER, made a short address explanatory of the object of the organization, referring especially to corruptions in the City Government, which are to be corrected. He was followed by Mr. HARTMEIER, Vice-President, in the same strain.

The persons present were principally property-holders, representing at least $2,000,000 worth of City property. Several other speeches were made, and about 150 names were signed to the roll of membership, each one pledging himself to oppose Tammany Hall, and to vote against any and every candidate put in nomination by that organization.

Dr. HARTMEIER, Mr. FREDERICK BAUER, Mr. WM. JUNGK, and other influential Germans of the Twentieth Ward, addressed the meeting, urging the concerted action of the Germans citizens to effect the purposes announced by the Chairman and Vice-President.

A committee of five gentlemen was appointed to report resolutions. The following were appointed: Sebastian Albus, Dr. Hoffer, F. Kilian, Dr. Keedinger, Fritz Bauer. This Committee will report at the next meeting. It is understood that the resolutions will be condemnatory of the present City Administration, and pledging the opposition of the organization to Tammany Hall. The meeting adjourned to meet again at the call of the Chair.

Action of the Thirteenth Ward Germans.

Last evening a number of German citizens of the Thirteenth Ward, met at No. 36 Norfolk-street and organized an association, the principal object of which is to assist in ousting the corrupt Tammany Ring from office. All of those present were Democrats, and Mr. A. LEOPOLD was in the chair.

THE WEATHER.

Synopsis of Events and Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—1 A. M.—The area of lowest pressure, which was Thursday night in Kentucky, has moved over Lake Erie to Central New-York and Pennsylvania, and the barometer has fallen on the upper lakes and the entire Atlantic coasts; the area of rain has extended to Maine, and now covers New-England, it having already generally ceased on the lower lakes and south-westward, excepting over a small area in the interior of the Carolinas. Clear weather is now reported from Kentucky, south and west, and in Florida. North-easterly winds on the Eastern and Middle Atlantic coasts are veering to the south-east and south-west, and light north-westerly winds prevail from Maryland to Lake Huron; cloud and fog over the Middle States and lower lakes.

PROBABILITIES.

The lowest barometer will probably move eastward during the night, with brisk south-easterly winds for a short time north-east of Rhode Island and on Lake Ontario, followed by north-westerly winds and cloudy and clearing weather over New-England and the Middle States on Saturday. Clear weather will probably prevail in the Southern and Gulf States, and falling barometer with threatening weather and southerly winds from Lake Superior to Iowa.

A Compromise Proposed in the Newcastle Strikes—Destructive Fire—General News.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Mr. GEORGE POTTER manages in the News, today, a compromise of the Newcastle difficulty. He recommends that the employers accept nine hours as the daily term of labor, and that the striking workmen sacrifice half an hour's wages per day to secure the reduction of hours. This Mr. POTTER thinks, would come very near to satisfying the desires of both parties. The meeting announced to take place in Trafalgar-square, London, for the exp

A GOLD CONSPIRACY.

Another Scheme to Lock Up Millions of Dollars.

Information Lodged with the City Judge and the District-Attorney—The Situation of the Grand Jury Called to the Matter by Judge Bedford.

It has been known to wise heads in Wall-street for some days that attempts were being made to bring about another great corner in gold, which, it is believed, in the present state of the market, would result in a general panic. The evidence to prove this having been brought before Judge BEDFORD, he yesterday convened the Grand Jury and delivered to them the following address:

MR. FOREMAN AND GENTLEMEN OF THE GRAND JURY: It has been brought to my notice and that of the District-Attorney that there is on foot a gigantic and wicked conspiracy in Wall-street to lock up millions of dollars, and which, if carried through, will have a tendency to check the trade and commerce of this great City, thereby injuring, and indeed jeopardizing, the finances of the whole country. In all probability there will be evidence of this character brought to your notice; if so, I ask you for the welfare of this Metropolis to act at once—promptly and fearlessly.

It is said that some of the men implicated are well known throughout the country.

THE EFFECT IN WALL-STREET.

The news of the action taken by Judge BEDFORD reached Wall-street about 12 o'clock, and created great commotion among the bulls and bears, who scarcely knew what to think of the movement. The bulls at once charged that it was a trick of their adversaries, and claimed that it would be productive of no good effect whatever. They asserted that it was clearly aimed at the gold clique, the members of which have been locking up gold for some time with the effect of making cash coin scarce in the market, and consequently worth a consideration for the use of it. But the premium was not affected, and remained at 114¼@114¼ to the close of the day, and this fact was pointed to by operators in the Gold-room as an evidence that no one was alarmed. It was asserted that a prominent stock operator, who has recently been dealing extensively in railroad securities, had arranged to look up greenbacks, with a view of making money scarce at the same time, but it was said that he became alarmed at the probable consequences and abandoned his scheme. It does not appear that any attempt was made by anyone else, for the evidence is clear that greenbacks were plenty in the banks, and that there was only a scarcity of national currency notes. The Treasury paid for the gold purchased on Thursday in greenbacks, though they received national bank notes for the bonds purchased on Wednesday, thus giving the office here a surplus of over three millions in what the Street calls money.

THE CLIQUE IN GOLD.

The combination to squeeze the gold loan market was formed some weeks ago by a few brokers, who were earnest bulls, and who backed their opinion with their money. They argued that gold was really very cheap even at 112, and that the Secretary of the Treasury could not, with safety to the finances of the Government, sell more than $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 per month, and that this supply would by no means meet the demand for Customs, which then averaged about $15,000,000 per month. The imports were ranging very high, and everything, in their view, indicated there was more cash gold likely to be demanded for legitimate business than the Treasury was willing to supply. They argued that if they could lock up some of this cash coin they would make it worth such a consideration that it would pay them a handsome profit even though the premium remained in the neighborhood of 112. Accordingly, they went to work, withdrew about $5,000,000 from the market in August, and almost immediately realized the truth of their theory, for cash gold was made so scarce by the withdrawal of this amount, that as high as ¾ of one per cent. per day was paid for the use of it. As this interest amounted to 27 50 per day on every $10,000 gold, which operators or others were required to borrow, it will be seen that the "shorts" were paying dearly for being caught on that side of the market. This point was the highest touched, but the loan market ranged, during the latter part of the last month, between 1-16 and ¼ of one per cent. per day, and the clique were abundantly satisfied with their speculation. The September programme of the Treasury Department announced that the sales of gold for the month would be $5,000,000—$1,000,000 every Thursday. This, it was thought, would abundantly supply the market, but cash gold became scarce again during the first week in September, owing to the extraordinary demand for Customs, and it continued to grow more scarce day by day. The clique appear to have abandoned all attempts to make gold artificially scarce by locking it up, and it is alleged that time for during the present month there has been no combination whatever. On Thursday of last week, however, the sale of only $2,029,000 by the Treasury was made a pretext for the statement that cash gold was worth a large premium, and an impetus was given to the bull movement by the fact that the bank statement of last week showed a loss of over $3,000,000 in coin. During the early part of the present week there were evidences of a new combination being formed, and the plans would doubtless have been put in execution had it not been for the sale of an additional $2,000,000, over the advertised amount, by the Secretary on Tuesday, for the receipts for the week of gold on Thursday afternoon was as high as 1-32d of one per cent. Yesterday morning most of the renewals were made at 1-16th of one per cent., but about noon the rate dropped to "flat" for borrowing, and the market closed at three to four per cent. for carrying, showing that cash gold was really plenty. This, of course, is evidence which is argued to prove that the stringency in the gold loan market was in reality speculative, so far as this week was concerned at all events.

HOW IMPORTERS AND OTHERS ARE AFFLICTED.

To the general reader some explanation may be necessary of the term "short" when used in connection with the gold stock market. An operator who has implicit faith in the immediate or ultimate decline of gold, for illustration, sells a certain amount at the then ruling price, expecting to be able to "cover" or purchase at some future time at a lower price. The next day he enters the loan market and borrows an amount equal to that which he sold, and delivers it to the party purchasing. This closes the transaction as between the seller and the purchaser, but the former must pay whatever rate of interest rules in the loan market as the time he is "short," or nothing, from one per cent. per day, to as high as seven per cent., for carrying the gold which he has borrowed. But if gold should be only moderately plenty, he may not be able to use his loans in any profitable way, for the rate both for borrowing and carrying may be "flat," or will be nominal, and not a consideration, sometimes

NOTES FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Governing Families.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

There are several important errors and omissions in your list of the distinguished gentlemen who now rule the people of this City. You describe WILLIAM M. TWEED, Jr., as Assistant District Attorney at a salary of $5,000 per annum. You owe Master TWEED an apology. Do you imagine that he would consent to sign his name twelve times for the paltry sum of $5,000? No Sir, he receives $10,000 per year for this distinguished service, (among his names,) and also places the names of the clerks in his private office on the pay-roll, while it is not pretended that they render any service to the City.

You have omitted all mention of the distinguished and eminently patriotic BENNETT family. MATTHEW T. is a leader of the Democracy, while the handsome and accomplished OWEN looks after the interests of the family on the Republican side of the house. The former is Sheriff, (worth about $200,000 a year,) while the latter holds the position of Commissioner of Charities and Correction at $10,000, and two or three other snug places under Tammany. A third brother, TIMOTHY, is a member of the Board of Education, and is up to his eyes in little jobs connected with that Board and with some of the civil Courts. In addition to this, there are several Jewish members of the family holding offices. A nephew, MICHAEL J. MCGLONEY, holds a position in the County Bureau, at $2,500 a year, and makes $10,000 more by manipulating claims against the Department. A stepbrother of MCGLONEY'S, WILLIAM J. A. MCGRATH, is clerk to Judge DOWLING, at the Tombs Police Court, while another nephew, WILLIAM H. MCGLONEY, is clerk to the Board of Assistant Aldermen. Yours, &c., FAIRFAX.

Working Against the Ring in Western New-York.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The popular feeling in this city and Buffalo, without respect to party, against the entire unbroken Ring is intense. A prominent Democrat from the City of New-York said to me yesterday, "The influence of our party in the State is gone for the present, unless all of the Ring renga." Another gentleman, a prominent citizen of Rochester, said: "There are three things necessary to be done at once in New-York City: First, reorganize the City Government; second, compel the thieves to disgorge; third, then send them to Sing Sing for a liberal term." A gentleman informed me this morning that "BOSS" TWEED stopped here a few days not long since and invited some friends of running his stay; that on leaving he paid a bill to the Osborn House of ($8,000) Three Thousand Dollars for what he and his friends ate and drank. Board is $4 per day. How many hotel bills of this sort could he pay from his legitimate salary?

Judge Court of Common Pleas.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM—SEPT. 14.

Before Judge Jones.

MOTION TO VACATE A DIVORCE.

John P. Merrill vs. Florence A. Merrill.—As already published in the Times, a decree was granted by Judge McCunn in favor of plaintiff, upon the evidence submitted with a referee's report, although the referee in his report gave no opinion in the matter. The motion to vacate was made yesterday to set this decree aside, on the ground that Judge McCunn had no authority to make such a decree, but must confine himself to either confirming or rejecting the referee's report. Judge Jones took the papers and reserved his decision.

A seven 3 cent. Railroad Loan, thirty years to run, first and exclusive mortgage, is advertised to be sold, on sealed proposals, Sept. 23, (Saturday week,) by the Connecticut Valley Company. The Bonds are to be awarded at the Connecticut River Bank, at Hartford. The mortgage is one of the established Roads of New-England, originally built with private capital, and the present negotiation is for the more thorough equipment of the line, to meet the demands of an increasing business.

In regard to the Mortgage Bonds of the Grand Rapids and Indiana Road, we have the following through the well-known Agents of the Bonds in this City, Messrs. WINSLOW, LANIER & CO.:

One of the successful new railroad enterprises now before the public is the Grand Rapids and Indiana line, whose bonds are offered by Messrs. WINSLOW, LANIER & Co. It connects the network of roads at Fort Wayne with Northern Michigan and the Straits of Mackinaw, and 120 miles are now finished. The Company has a land grant of 1,150,000 acres of pine lands in Northern Michigan. The Road having reached these lands, they have been put on the market for sale. Three hundred thousand dollars' worth have already been sold, and all sales have to be invested by the trustees in the repurchase of the bonds from the holders. The lumber from these lands is now in construction demand in the West, and is even sent to this City, affording a freight business for the Road and its affiliations—the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, and the Pennsylvania Central. These lands are estimated, by the friends of the enterprise, to be worth about $12,000,000, and are all, as well as the Road itself, mortgaged for the security of the bonds—in all, $9,000,000. Attention is invited to the advertisement elsewhere.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL.

☞ FIRST MORTGAGE SINKING FUND LAND-GRANT BONDS OF THE ST. JOSEPH AND DENVER CITY RAILROAD COMPANY,

IN DENOMINATIONS OF $1,000, $500, AND $100, can now be had from the undersigned or through the principal banks and bankers of the United States. The attention of investors is invited to the merits of these bonds, secured by a first and only mortgage on the road, equipments, franchises, and property of a trunk line of railroad which will shorten the distance between New-York and San Francisco some 230 miles, and in addition the mortgage to secure the bonds covers a land-grant of 1,500,000 acres of the most fertile land in the West, which is prohibited from being sold at less than four ($4) dollars per acre by the terms of the mortgage deed, and according to the present market price of the Illinois Central Company's lands is worth $18,750,000. This loan was originally for $5,500,000, but has been largely reduced by subscriptions of actual investors. The remaining balance of the loan is offered at 97½ and accrued interest, but the right is reserved to advance the price at any time, without notice.

The bonds have thirty years to run; bear 9 per cent. interest, payable in New-York, London or Frankfort-on-the-Main, at the option of the holder, without notice, free of taxes. BOTH PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ARE PAYABLE IN GOLD. They are Coupon Bonds, but can be registered with the coupons ON, or can be registered with the coupons OFF, and interest paid to registered owner. Interest payable Aug. 15 and Feb. 15. A liberal sinking fund, formed from the entire land sales, in payment for which the bonds will be received at par and accrued interest, provides for the early extinguishment of this loan.

Trustees—Farmers' Loan and Trust Company.

These bonds offer favorable inducements to parties desiring to fund their Five-Twenties, or other high-priced securities.

In converting Five-Twenties the investors realize 17 per cent. profit on the principal; 2 per cent. per annum excess of interest; and at the same time get a perfect security.

Maps, circulars, documents, and full information furnished on application.

Though acting as agents for the sale of this loan, our firm buy and sell in their regular business the bonds of the St. Joseph and Denver City Railroad Company, those of the Eastern Division being now quoted at 102 and accrued interest. These were originally placed by us at 97½.

BANKING-HOUSE OF JAY COOKE & CO.

Since the closing of the Government Loan by our firm, the demand for

7.30 Northern Pacific Gold Bonds

has been LARGER THAN EVER, while the exchange of Five-twenties called in for redemption in December is daily increasing.

This shows that holders of Five-twenties are not only alive to their interests, but that they have the fullest confidence in the NORTHERN PACIFIC SEVEN-THIRTIES.

The Bonds are secured, beyond all question, by a first and only mortgage on the Road, its entire rolling stock, and 50,000,000 acres of the finest land in the world.

We do not hesitate to commend these Bonds to our friends and the public with the same confidence we did the Government Loans.

All marketable Securities received in exchange.

$20,000 City of Plattsburg, Mo., 10 per Cent. Bonds at 85.

$100,000 Leavenworth County, Kansas, 7 per Cent. Bonds at 72.

The above bonds have from five to twenty years to run. Interest payable semi-annually in New-York.

Official documents and particulars can be obtained at the office of

RANDALL H. FOOTE,

No. 57 Exchange-place.

☞ FIVE-TWENTIES CAN BE FUNDED with us into the best Railroad Bonds. We recommend those of the BONDOUT AND OSWEGO COMPANY for three reasons: 1. These Bonds are safe. The road is near this City. Every investor can travel over it for himself. The net earnings of one-half of the line pay at present 10 per cent. on all the bonds which will be issued on the whole road. 2. By conversion, as we recommend, the investor adds 2½ per cent. to his capital. 3. He also adds 46 1-2 per cent. to his income.

FLOUR AND MEAL—The market for State and Western Flour was less active and scarcely so firm. Owing to unfavorable foreign advices buyers withdrew and holders offered more stock. Sales have been reported since our last of 7,600 bbls. at $3 60@$3 90 for Superfine Western and State; $4 10@$4 45 for common to medium Extra Western and State; $4 45@$4 for good to choice do.; $4 07½@$4 75 for common to choice White Wheat Western Extra; $4 90@$5 20 for common to good Extra Ohio, and $5 10@$6 for common to choice Extra St. Louis, the market closing dull. Southern Flour was dull and drooping; sales have been reported since our last of 460 bbls. at $5 60@$7 for common to fair Extra, and $7 10@$8 for good to choice do. Rye Flour was steady; the sales are 250 bbls. at $4 20@$5 20. Corn-meal was quiet, but steady, at $3 30@$3 40 for Western and $3 60@$3 75 for Brandywine; $3 50@$3 75 for Jersey, and $4@$4 10 per Brandywine; sales, 250 bbls.

GRAIN—The Wheat market opened heavily, and as buyers refused to purchase to any extent owing to unfavorable foreign advices, holders made a concession of 2c.@3c. before the close. Sales have been reported since our last at 130,000 bushels at $1 42@$1 47½ for No. 2 Spring, closing at $1 45 for very fair do.; $1 39 for soft do.; $1 42@$1 48 for Winter Red Western; $1 46@$1 50 for Amber Michigan; $1 46@$1 47 for White Western; $1 48 for Winter Amber Illinois, and $1 46 for extra Amber Indiana. Rye was more active and firmer; sales have been reported at 2,000 bushels at 90c. for Western on spot and to arrive, at 90c., and 4,000 bushels of inferior Canada, in bond, at 76c. Barley was quiet. Barley-malt was dull. Corn was irregular and unsettled, opening a shade firmer and closing heavy and lower on the sales reported. Sales, 40,000 bushels, past last evening, at 72c.@73½c. for Western Mixed, in store, 72c.@73½c., afloat, closing at the inside figures. Including 100,000 bushels private Western Mixed, for November, at 75c. Oats opened firm and closed heavy and lower; sales have been made at 42,000 bushels at 51c.@55c. for Western and Ohio, including 12,000 bushels Western, to arrive, at 51c.

METALS—Ingot Copper is again higher and very strong. We quote at 22¼c.@22¾c., cash. Sales footup 490,000 lbs. at 22¾c., cash, and 22¾c.@24c. for future. Spelter has been very quiet at 6c., gold. Lead has ruled quiet, inactive at 5@5½c., gold, for ordinary foreign. Regulus Antimony has been very quiet at 11½c., gold. Zinc has sold freely and the market closed very strong; sales have been 25 casks Mussel-man at 7¾c.@7¾c., gold, closing at 8c., gold; 25 casks Silesian Sheet at 7¾c.@7¾c., gold. In Pig, in a considerable movement has taken place in Straits, with a firm market ruling at the close. Sales of 2,000 slabs, to arrive, at 30½c., gold, cash; 200 slabs English at 30c., gold; and 5 tons do. at 31½c., gold. Plates have advanced about 25c. ✠ box, with a fair business; sales have been 1,000 boxes Charcoal at $8 75@$9, gold; 100 boxes I. C. Charcoal at $6 75 gold. Scotch Pig-iron remains very strong, with not much business, however, manufacturers buying only as they have occasion to use; sales have been 250 tons Glengarnock gold at $24; small lots Coltness, to the extent of 75 tons, at $26; Eglinton, in lots, $23 50@$24. American Pig has been more active, with sales of 1,000 tons No. 1 Crane at $27; 300 tons Allentown at $26 75. In old Double-headed Rails sales have been made to the extent of 1,100 tons, on private terms; 300 tons Wrought Scrap were sold from yard at $42, net cash. Russia Sheet was quiet, but steadily held. Sales have been reported since our last of 210 tons at 9¼c. for Steam, 9¼c. for Kettle-tendered, and 9c.@9¼c. for City. For forward delivery there is nothing doing; 9¼c. is bid for October and January, and 9¾c. is asked. Bitter remained dull and prices heavy at 12c.@20c. per bbl. for common to fine. Tallow is lower; sales, 40 hhds. do.,

Notice.

We cannot notice anonymous communications. In all cases we require the writer's name and address, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

We cannot under any circumstances return rejected communications, nor can we undertake to preserve manuscripts.

The English edition of the New Pamphlet, containing a complete history of the Tammany Frauds, will be ready on Tuesday next. The narrative contains all the information which can be gathered on the subject, with new introduction, illustrations and notes. The pamphlet will be sold at ten cents a copy, or $7 per hundred to dealers. All orders to be addressed to the NEW-YORK TIMES.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

EUROPE.

RUMORS are current of fresh changes in the diplomatic representation of France near the Governments of Switzerland, the United States, Italy and Germany. It is said that M. PIERRE LAURENT will be appointed Minister to Berne in place of M. CHATEAURENAUD, who goes to Washington instead of M. JULES FERRY. The Duke D'HARCOURT, it is also said, will be appointed Ambassador to Florence in place of the COMTE DE CHOISEUL, who will be transferred to Berlin.

A rich lead mine has been discovered in the island of Jersey.

The English Government are to examine into the causes of the late mishaps to their war vessels.

The supporters of Mr. GLADSTONE, in Glasgow, Scotland, have invited him to visit that city.

The French Assembly have appointed a committee of twenty-five to supervise the Government during the recess.

GENERAL.

The sureties upon the bonds of the Collectors of internal revenue against whom suits have been commenced for balances due the Government, are very generally asking for a continuance of the suits until the next term of the Court. Commissioner DOUGLASS uniformly declines to accede to any requests of this character, being determined to press suits in all these cases.

Secretary BELKNAP returned to Washington this morning. He was already in possession of the facts concerning Major HONEY's defalcation. There is no doubt there will be an early official investigation of the subject in order to determine whether there was any dereliction of duty on the part of the accounting officers.

Supervisor DUTCHER, of New-York, FULTON, of Pennsylvania, FRY, of Kentucky, COWEN of Southern Ohio, and FULTON, of Maryland, were in consultation with Commissioner DOUGLASS, yesterday, to take measures for the better enforcement of the tobacco tax.

A riot in Rawling, N.Y., last night, was caused by the action of the members of a circus encamped there, who pillaged the houses and killed one citizen.

The examination of the Superintendent of the Susquehanna Valley Home, at Binghamton, has been concluded, and the charges against him have not been sustained.

The Captain-General of Cuba visited Manzanillo recently, and was enthusiastically received.

Reports from Cuba state that many of the insurgents are surrendering themselves to the Government.

Coroner PAINE, of Mobile, on Thursday arrested E. P. BRAGUE, United States Inspector of Boilers, and HUGH BARNEY and BILL MURRAY, owners, on a charge of manslaughter, in accordance with the verdict of the jury at the inquest on the Ocean Wave disaster case.

The druggists of St. Louis gave the members of the American Pharmaceutical Association and the ladies accompanying them a banquet at the Southern Hotel Tuesday night. Some three hundred were seated at the table, and the affair passed off in the most pleasant and agreeable manner.

The Joint Committee of the Anthracite Board of Trade and the Working men's Benevolent Association reported the average price at Port Carbon upon which to base the wages for September to be $2 32.

The four seamen of the whaleman Montezuma, who were under arrest at Boston for the murder of a colored man on the Island of Dominica, were yesterday discharged, as the act was in self-defense.

The acting Commissioner of Indian Affairs at Washington, yesterday received official intimation from the Governor of Texas, of the commutation of the sentence of the Indian Chiefs SANTA FEE and BIG TREE from death to imprisonment for life.

From the official returns at Washington, there is every reason to think that the cotton crop will be fully up to the yearly average.

Chief-Justice CHASE arrived in Chicago Thursday. His health is almost entirely restored.

The Law Vindicated.

The men who framed the Two per Cent. Tax Levy bill to deceive the people, and then, in manifest contempt of its provisions, brought the City to the verge of financial ruin, have reaped the fruit of their own acts. The injunction against the chief executive officers of the City has been made perpetual, and municipal government has practically been brought to a dead-lock. The fact must be clearly kept in view, that for this result HALL, CONNOLLY and TWEED are responsible. They are public servants, and they have basely betrayed their trust. The property of the tax-payers was being mortgaged at a rate which would have left the City hopelessly bankrupt at the end of a few years, and it is a simple act of self-preservation, that the power of creating additional burdens should be summarily taken from them. The true enemies of our City credit are the men who stand convicted of embezzling the money of the tax-payers; its true friends are those who have arrested municipal expenditures at a point short of absolute ruin. From first to last, the defense of the accused officials has been a damaging one. They did not attempt to deny that they had signed warrants for fraudulent claims, which, in the language of Judge BARNARD, were "little better than highway robbery." They admitted that more money had already been raised for the present year than was provided for by the provisions of the Two per Cent. act. But the Mayor alleged that he had no time to see that the people were not robbed, his journalistic recreations apparently taking precedence of his official duties, and the Controller stated that he had no suspicion he was passing fraudulent bills, while TWEED contented himself with a very loose and general denial. With regard to the Two per Cent. act, the very men who framed it turned round and admitted that the pretenses under which it was passed were false from beginning to end, and that instead of being intended to cover all the local expenditures, it was merely to be an auxiliary to half a dozen other legislative schemes for bleeding the tax-payers.

It hardly needed the clear and convincing argument of Ex-Judge BARRETT to utterly demolish so frivolous a defense. Judge BARNARD's order was a foregone conclusion after the utter failure of defendants' counsel to disprove the main allegations of the complaint. Nevertheless, though the duty of the Court was perfectly obvious, it is but just to remember that it has been discharged in spite of the most persistent pressure from the members of the broken Ring. We have never doubted that, in this matter, Judge BARNARD would act fearlessly and independently. Now that all doubts and surmises to the contrary have been finally set at rest, the hands of the public representatives will be strengthened in carrying legal action against the men who have robbed the City Treasury to its natural issue.

TWEED, CONNOLLY and HALL have stated through their counsel that the affairs of the City would be brought to a stand-still if the injunction was continued. That is to say, they have raised, during the first six months of the present year, six millions more than they were entitled to raise during the entire year, and yet they are in want of money for current expenses. Ex-Judge BARRETT showed that after paying the State tax and the interest on the public debt, they ought still to have had twelve millions for the payment of the working expenses of the City and County. The next question which these men have to answer is, Where has the money gone to? If they have spent it all, before half the year's expenses have been met, they must either refund the money which they have illegally disposed of, or one and all, immediately resign. If they attempt to intrench themselves behind their official position, and so elude the justice which would overtake ordinary criminals, they must take the consequences of whatever excesses of popular indignation their course may provoke. If any laboring man in this City is deprived of the wages he has earned by the present injunction, he must look to the men who have misapplied the funds which were placed in their hands to pay him. There is no need that a single branch of the City or County Government should be hampered or obstructed by the present order. If those departments to which it immediately refers are brought to a dead-lock by its operation, that is the best possible argument that it was urgently required. The men in power profess to have a majority of the people at their back. The highest judicial authority has decided that they have forfeited the confidence of the people, and has, on behalf of their constituents, stripped them of the authority confided to them. There is but one appeal which they can make, and that is to the people, whose servants the Court and themselves equally are. This they can only do by an immediate resignation. Men whom the Court and the people can trust in power can easily be found, and every obstruction to public business would thus be removed. If they fail to retire in a body from the offices they have dishonored, then they must be compelled to do so, and the sooner the better. Further robbery of the City Treasury has been as effectually prevented as the case would admit of; restitution for the robberies of the past is next in order.

Who Pays for the Stealings at the Ring?

It is a remarkable fact that those who will be the most deeply affected by the recent public frauds of our City officials are the least moved by them. To the laboring and mechanic classes, and the very poor, the stealings of their rulers are a matter almost of life and death. To the middle and richer classes, they are simply so much deducted from their present incomes. If it be the fact, as at present appears probable, that the amount of the City debt is equal to twenty-four per cent. of the total value of the real estate of the City, the conclusion is plain that every man's property in New-York, in houses and lands, is under a mortgage of that proportion, and all owing to the extravagance and dishonesty of our rulers. All who own property in the City are one-quarter poorer. If Mr. WM. B. ASTOR owns thirty millions of houses and lots in the Metropolis, he has lost over seven millions by this dishonest and wasteful management. If Mr. LENOX has ten millions, his loss is in equal proportion. Or if a small merchant has a house in Eighth-street, worth twenty-four thousand dollars, purchased by the earnings of years of toil and sacrifice, six thousand dollars of his property has gone to pay the Ring and their followers. Rich men fully understand this. They and their associates, and the members of similar classes, know that out of their pockets must partly come the money for all the jobs and swindles and wastefulness of the past ten years. They are fully awake in the present efforts for reform. Their money and time will be freely given to hunt out the rogues, and to make them disgorge their plunder. But they are men who can bear their losses. They can soon make new profits. If house-owners, they will charge the taxes on their tenants; if dealers and merchants, they put higher prices on their goods, so far as competition with less-taxed cities will permit.

But there are other classes who are not so well able to bear these robberies, and yet who must pay to pay for them—the poor families of the lowest wards, the day-laborers, the small clerks and petty shop-keepers. The "long-shoreman" in the Fourth Ward will pay in the next year fifteen dollars instead of twelve for his cellar, to enable SWEENY and his friends to live in palaces; the hod-man or First-avenue will be compelled to leave his children without shoes, that his great "Boss" may have diamond buttons for the shoes of his children; the German tailor of the Eleventh Ward will hear his little ones crying in vain for bread, because the "Ring" must have their champagne suppers; the petty clerk in a down-town house must next year do without his books or his vacation, so as to aid GARVEY in his villa or KEYSER with his island; the American mechanic is driven from his little house to a tenement, and beholds his children playing among the scum of the City, so that HALL may purchase his bank-stock, or TWEED build his blocks of houses. Every one of us is poorer for the stealings of this gang. The daily laborers feel it the most, for their means are very limited, and it is a cruel thing to deprive them of the money which they have honestly earned.

The waste and stealings of the City Treasury fall first on rents, and then on the poor and middle classes. All intelligent men understand this. But the classes who are most interested in this economical fact, do not understand it, or do not care for it if they do. We venture to say that the Irish laboring poor of this City, though every man of them is poorer for these thefts and this waste, would to-morrow cast almost as heavy a vote for Mr. HALL or Mr. TWEED as they ever did. If we had a laboring man's organ, worthy of the name, this would not be. Some clear idea would be given to the working people of the elementary principles of political economy. "The jobbery of the rich, the robbery of the poor," would become a party cry, and an axiom familiar to every one of them.

Our hope, however, for the future, is in what is now the ruling class in all countries—the great middle class—who are not so rich as to be luxurious and inefficient, or so poor as to be the tools of demagogues. The upper mechanics, trades-people, merchants and professional men, all understand that they have been individually robbed by the plunderers of the New-York Treasury. They are determined to punish the rogues, and to check such frauds in future. They will control even the great ignorant mass beneath them, so that we look, in the future, for such a reorganization of this City Government as will make New-York a very different place to live in. Possibly through the Germans, light will yet dawn on the laboring people of the City, and they will see that every dollar stolen from the City Treasury is a dollar taken from their hard earnings. When that day comes, the power of "Rings" will be finally broken.

The Legislature—An Immediate Duty.

Every new phase in the political crisis in this City renders more imperative the duty of the Anti-Tammany Party outside of the City to send its strongest and best men to the Legislature. It is now beyond reasonable doubt that we shall be able to combine, in some districts in the City, all the honest opponents of Tammany. But it is also almost beyond doubt that in other districts we shall have dissension in our own ranks, the fruit of the seed sown by Tammany. The Tammany Republican General Committee has called its local nominating conventions to meet before the State Convention. The County Convention is summoned for the 14th, the Senatorial Conventions for the 18th, the Assembly Conventions for the 19th of this month. By this action the Tammany Republicans hope to serve the ends of their employers, in a way beyond the power of the State Convention to prevent or remedy. If they can get their tickets into the field before the party in convention has an opportunity of deciding on their right to put tickets in nomination at all, they can be pretty sure of producing enough discord and confusion to accomplish their purpose. Nothing has more distinctly brought out the reckless purpose of this organization than their haste to forestall the verdict of the State Convention. There is no possible motive for it but a bad one. If these people had really at heart a desire to put down the corrupt rule of Tammany, they would throw no obstacles in the way of a complete combination of all the anti-Tammany elements. If they sincerely wished to see the Republican Party represented by candidates whose claims to the support of all Republicans admitted of no doubt, they would not seek to make their nominations before the State Convention has decided the question, whether the initiation of nominations properly rests with them, or with the Committee as reorganized by the State Committee.

It is but too probable that the purpose of this premature action will be attained, and that the Republican Party, when it marshals its members against the Ring, will find them divided. In this emergency, we repeat the appeal we have so often made to all the honest opponents of Tammany misrule throughout the State, to join their forces, select men of unimpeachable and well-known integrity, and meet the Tammany representatives from this City in the Legislature, whatever name they bear, with an overwhelming majority of unpurchasable members. This can be done. It only requires prompt, firm, and decided action by every genuine foe to corruption. Let every voter feel that a special duty lies on him to do his best to overthrow the conspiracy which now controls the State. Let him be on hand at the first moment that steps are taken to choose candidates for the Legislature. Let him begin at once to find out on whom the choice can safely and wisely fall. Let every man remember that now, if ever, political action is an actual, pressing, pre-eminent duty. It is no time to stay at home and bemoan the apathy of the people. It will do no good to simply denounce our betrayers, and lament the progress of demoralization. The thing wanted is action, and every man who will make up his mind to vote only for an honest foe of Tammany—Republican or Democrat—and commence now to use all his influence to get such a candidate to vote for, can contribute to this action.

Eight Hours' Work for Ten Hours' Pay.

We believe that the recent procession of working men in this City was projected and carried out entirely by the trade societies. It is natural, therefore, to ask what these societies really expect to get. Their want, as they state it themselves, is full ten hours' wages for eight hours' work, for those men who belong to their societies. For those who do not, or cannot join them, they do not, of course, assume to speak. The effort to obtain as much pay as possible for as little work as will be accepted, has been practiced ever since men began to work for wages. It has sometimes produced notable and beneficial results. It has done away, in many kinds of employment, with overwork which was too much for workmen and workwomen to perform without sacrifice of health. Nothing is more ruinous to morals, more insidiously but surely opposed to progress in the sense of modern civilization, than the presence in a community of large numbers of overworked and underpaid men and women. But we do not believe that the demand of the trade societies, who marched through our streets on Wednesday in such imposing numbers, is based on any complaint of injury to health from the present hours of labor. That plea, though occasionally heard, is not seriously advanced. Every well-informed trade-unionist will admit that the injury to health from overwork in the trades is absolutely slight, and relatively far less than is experienced among workers outside of the trades—for example, among retail shop-keepers and professional men. The object of the demand for reduced hours of labor springs, not from extraordinary hardships, but simply from the universal desire for the greatest possible amount of leisure.

It is fair, then, to suggest that the demand is at the present time inopportune, and that, if it could be generally enforced, it would work more harm to those who now make it, than it would to the employers. Labor is not in a position in this country at this time to compel capital to yield one-fifth more wages—which is what reducing the hours of labor by one-fifth amounts to. Industrial enterprises are not thriving. New ones are not being established. Trade is dull. Capital is cautious, timid, suspicious, and is far more anxious about safe, even if moderately paying, investment, than eager to make the ventures necessary to an active demand for labor. But if, in spite of this condition of affairs, the trades-unions could by combination effect a general reduction, the price of every article they were compelled to buy would be proportionately increased. Capital is now reaping but the narrowest margin of profit. Add one-fifth to the cost of production, and capital would have to make an addition of one-fifth to the price demanded of the consumer. The laboring man now spends nearly all he earns for his necessary expenses. If one-fifth were added to these expenses, what compensation would he derive for that addition from any use he could make of two hours more daily leisure? The time may come, and probably will, when labor will be again in active demand in the United States. The tendency of capital is to accumulate in all healthy conditions of society, and the United States are gradually coming back to a healthy condition. On the removal of our practically irredeemable paper currency, capital will again increase in this country, and come here from other countries. Then it may quite probably come to pass that eight hours' work per day can profitably be paid for as if it were ten hours' work, without adding to the cost of the working man's living. But at present the demand made by the trades societies not only is not likely to be granted, but if granted, would work more harm than good to its authors.

The Innocent Peter B. Sweeny.

We see it stated that Gov. HOFFMAN is desirous of retaining SWEENY as a member in good standing of the Democratic Party, although he has no objections to kick HALL, TWEED, and CONNOLLY overboard; while in the City, HALL and SWEENY have formed an alliance to save themselves by sacrificing CONNOLLY and TWEED. It therefore becomes necessary to inquire what we should have left if the plot were to prove successful, and what the public would gain by the operation. It is admitted on all sides, and has formed the subject of many an eulogium in Democratic papers, that PETER B. SWEENY is the "brains" of the Tammany Ring. He it was who drew the present Ring charter, and who organized the system by which an oligarchy of half a dozen men rule the Democratic Party with a rod of iron, perpetuate themselves in power, and fill their pockets with the people's money. For years past he has spent almost the entire Winter at Albany, engineering through the Legislature such laws as would facilitate the corrupt designs of himself and his confederates of the "Ring" in this City. TWEED and the other Senators and Representatives from New-York, aided by two or three professional lobbyists, have been mere instruments and tools to carry out the will of SWEENY, by "fixing" the Legislature through the medium of corrupt bargains and bribes. When the lawyers employed to defend the "Ring," before Judge BARNARD, attempt to shield their clients behind the laws passed at Albany, and to throw the responsibility on the Legislature, they forget to tell the Court that these laws are the exclusive work of the "Ring" itself, and that most of them were concocted by the man who boasts of being the "brains" of the entire concern.

SWEENY is the arch plotter of the gang, and, more than any or all other men, is responsible for the corruption and misrule in this City. His career, from his first entrance into politics, has been that of an ambitious schemer and wirepuller, who, keeping himself in the background, has made use of other men to do his dirty and illegal work. As long ago as 1850, we find him engaged in the congenial business of buying up the Common Council in this City. In the case of WILLARD and SWEENY against PETTIGREW, tried before Judge HOFFMAN, in the Superior Court of this City, in December, 1854, we get an insight into SWEENY's earlier achievements as a lobbyist and corruptor of legislative bodies. Mr. PETTIGREW and Mr. SHERMAN, it appears, were seeking to get a grant from the Common Council for a railroad in Eighth-avenue, and had engaged the services of AMMIEL WILLARD, Chief Clerk in the Corporation Counsel's office, to assist them. WILLARD recommended them to employ, as counsel, PETER B. SWEENY, who was a near relative of THOMAS J. BARR, then a prominent Alderman, and who might therefore be supposed to secure his support to the grant. The plot succeeded, as most of SWEENY's plots do, and the grant was obtained. WILLARD and SWEENY thereupon put in a claim to one-fourth interest in the railroad franchise, as compensation for their services in procuring the grant. The claim being denied, suit was brought by WILLARD and SWEENY to recover it, and the trial took place as aforesaid. The defense set up by PETTIGREW and SHERMAN was that WILLARD and SWEENY's services consisted in bribing the Common Council, which, being an illegal and felonious act, could not be made the basis of an action to recover money for its performance. The following extracts from the testimony of SHERMAN and PETTIGREW, both of whom were prominent citizens, and whose veracity was never impeached, will show how PETER B. SWEENY figured in the transaction.

Mr. SHERMAN said:

"WILLARD was employed on account of his position in the Corporation Counsel's office, and because he could both influence members and procure favorable opinions from the Counsel. * * * SWEENY came in before the grant was made; WILLARD said SWEENY had influence with the members of the Common Council; think he said SWEENY was a relative of BARR's. * * * SWEENY would say, 'You must see So-and-So.' WILLARD drew a letter from BARR, as Chairman of the Committee, to the Corporation Counsel, asking his opinion as to the power of the Common Council to make the grant, and WILLARD also drew the answer."

Mr. PETTIGREW went still further into the details of the transaction, and, among other things, testified to the following:

"BARR made his report in favor of the grant in 1851. In the Fall of 1850, WILLARD wanted SWEENY associated with him. He said SWEENY boarded with BARR, who was his uncle. He (WILLARD) had seen strange things take place through SWEENY, who had a good deal of influence with members, and with BARR particularly. It was understood SWEENY could procure BARR's services. I think SWEENY drew the report. WILLARD and SWEENY would say 'such an Alderman must be got right.' I would go and arrange it and tell them what it cost to do it. Both of them knew what was being done, particularly SWEENY. The names and amounts were mentioned, what it cost to buy them. I told SWEENY that when he came in I supposed he would secure Barr, but that we had had to buy him. SWEENY said he was sorry; if he had consulted him (SWEENY) he would have advised against paying BARR. As to paying money, it was all talked over between SHERMAN, myself, WILLARD, and SWEENY. Not a dollar was paid which was not communicated to WILLARD and SWEENY. There was no secret about it between us four. At one time I went to their office, and told them members of the Common Council were coming to arrange about the grant, and to clear out. THEY did so, and I arranged it. SWEENY's brother got —— to Staten Island, and drunk. I paid $100 for it to PETER B. SWEENY, and he was not satisfied; he wanted $500. I paid Barr seven, eight or nine hundred dollars, at different times; part before the report, part afterward. I gave him in checks. Barr said he had better give me a note, in case anything should turn up; and if the grant did not pass, he would pay the note. [The witness produced the checks.] Think I told SWEENY before I did it that I should have to buy BARR. Told WILLARD and SWEENY every amount of money, when and to whom paid. WILLARD said he did not want to know about it. Barr wanted twenty-five hundred dollars more. Paid Alderman CORNELL $2,000—one $1,000 bill and two of $500. Paid it at French's Hotel. Paid Alderman FRANCIS, of the Tenth Ward, about $200, in several payments. Think plaintiff knew of the payment before it was made. Think SWEENY knew of the payment to CORNELL. I told WILLARD and SWEENY what CORNELL asked; he asked $5,000. Told them I had offered $2,000. Paid Alderman BAND $500. He then wanted to be let off, as he could make a good thing on the other side. SWEENY pointed out those four men as ones to secure. SWEENY, and in some cases WILLARD, knew that these men were to be bought. They would make a bargain with us to sell their vote the same as you would buy a horse. Gave Assistant Alderman BRADFORD $1,000; he said he knew what was going on, and he'd be d—d if he wouldn't have some. I told plaintiffs before I paid the money in plaintiffs' office. SWEENY knew it was going to be bribe BRADFORD. We sent for BRADFORD to SWEENY's office. I paid J. M. SWEENY to get —— drunk. Aldermen BOUTON, MARRATT and TAIT had $6,000 between them; it was paid in the lobby of the City Hall. I think both WILLARD and SWEENY knew it; I am certain I told them before I paid the money."

This is the way PETER "Brains" SWEENY employed his time and earned his livelihood twenty years ago; and no one can help noting the striking similarity between his method of doing business at that date, and his later operations as a wire-puller and lobbyist in the broader field of Albany legislation. There has evidently been no change in him since that time, and "what was bred in the bone" has been "coming out in the flesh" ever since. Do the Democrats of this City—does the Democratic Party of the State—wish to see this man kept in his position as the leader and "brains" of the party, while his less culpable instruments and tools are cast on one side? The people demand the overthrow of the whole gang, and the uprooting of the entire system of tyranny and corruption which they have fastened upon the public. They will not be content with the lopping off of two or three of the lower limbs, while the "Brains" of the conspiracy is left to plot new frauds and organize new "Rings." All or none—let us spare not one of this gang, or we shall have to do all this work over again at no distant day.

The Prophet of Mount Lebanon.

Until within a very short period there were no more Shakers in England than there are snakes in Ireland, but Elder FREDERICK EVANS, the High Priest of the well-known settlement at Mount Lebanon, has gone to convert the stiff-necked Islanders, and whether he succeeds or not he is certainly making a good deal of stir. Everybody knows that the Shakers are famous manufacturers of cheap fabrics and growers of horse-radish, and that they are exemplary for neatness and industry; but many will learn now for the first time that this sect, besides living celibate lives, profess that they, and so far they alone, have practically solved the great problem of Socialism.

Elder EVANS sailed from New-York on the 1st of July, and arrived in London only by about the middle of the month, but, with the aid of Mr. HEPWORTH DIXON, and some other kindred spirits, he has already got up a lively breeze, and contrived to obtain that amount of gratuitous advertising which even for religious proselytism in these days seems so much coveted. The avowed object of Elder EVANS is to build up societies of Shakers in England, and to increase the societies already existing in the United States. As the Lebanon Society, including its head, originally came from England, it is natural they should seek recruits in that country. The Mormons have certainly found their best field there, and have been practically unmolested in filling it; and there seems no good reason why Shakerism, which may be regarded as an exact antithesis of Mormonism, should not enjoy equal toleration. To judge from the current English Press, however, the antagonism to the new movement is pretty strong. The inference seems to be, that in England there is less objection to people being too much married than too little. One difficulty doubtless, consists in the fact that Elder EVANS has turned up in England at rather an unfortunate social epoch. A great cry and grievance there is that men are already far more indisposed to matrimony than they ought to be; and it is clearly seen that should there be increased acceptance of the "Women's Rights" doctrines, the male candidates for connubial bliss are likely to be scarcer than ever. Hence a preacher of celibacy finds social elements of obvious strength arrayed against him. Even advocates of polygamy had a better chance—at least among the lower classes—and possibly an apostle of polyandry might prove more lucky than either.

Notwithstanding this, Elder EVANS has had several literary heralds whose writings, from various causes, have been widely noticed, and whose reports of him and the community of which he is the Great Apollo, have inspired, on his appearance, much speculative curiosity. Mr. DIXON and Prof. NOYES have in this way been profitable forerunners, although possibly neither has been a more successful one than poor Artemus Ward. The reader may remember the showman's extraordinary account of his visit to the community, in which the following scene is depicted: The narrator says that he saw Elder Uriah and his housekeeper "huggin and kissin like young lovers in their gushingest state." Sez I, 'my Shaker friends, I reckon you'd better suspend the rules and git married.' 'You mean evooce brother Uriah,' sed the female; 'he's subject to fits, and hain't got no command over himself when he's into 'em.' 'Sartinly,' sez I; 'I've hin took that way myself frequent.' 'You're a man of sin!' sed the Elder."

It need hardly be said that this is not to be taken literally, but, with the other quaint caricatures that accompany it, it will serve Elder EVANS as a capital advertisement. At all events, the joke has furnished him with a good occasion for refuting misrepresentation, and setting forth what his views really are. It may be new to some of our readers to hear that the Elder affirmed that the Spiritual Phenomena of our day, were perfectly well known among his people thirty years ago. All the strange things, and more, reported as accomplished through the mediumship of HOME and others were familiar as household words to the Shakers. They knew also and predicted, before the Rochester knockings were heard of, that the phenomena were destined to spread everywhere among the "World's people." Their faith includes the well-known dogma enunciated by ELIZA FARNHAM, of the duality of the creative principle—or, in other words, that there is a female as well as a male God—and that the former was manifested on earth in the person of ANN LEE. They believe in the Second Advent, and Elder EVANS does not hesitate to express the conviction that it is close at hand. Further than this, they practice communism, and without doubt lead very orderly, industrious, and apparently contented lives.

The mystery of this, however, is probably akin to the mystery of Oneidism and of Mormonism. The Elder is a man of strong will, unusual powers of administration and self-restraint, much practical benevolence, and—more important as bearing on a life of rural solitude than may at first appear—a close observer and worshiper of nature. These qualities have enabled him to multiply his little company of seven persons until they now number nine thousand—all ostensibly by accessions from without. That such an aggregation of persons, under such circumstances should live so long together in harmony and industry, sharing their goods in common, and voluntarily resigning the chief joys of domestic life, proves less for Shakerism than for the abilities of its most conspicuous representative and expounder.

MINOR TOPICS.

The charges against Mr. JAMES M. MACGREGOR, Superintendent of Public Buildings, increase in amount every day. Some of them wear a very black appearance. A correspondent writes to us to say that he has been victimized by MACGREGOR, and he goes on to ask us why we don't expose the said MACGREGOR—and we in collusion with him, &c., &c. We thought we had been "exposing" people enough latterly, and that one big job was enough to have on hand at a time—but MACGREGOR's case seems to demand immediate attention. We will have some of the stories sent to us carefully inquired into, and if the particular correspondent above mentioned half gives to his items and affidavit he might have assisted in the cause which he has at heart. The Building Department, like Dr. CARNOCHAN'S Department, is evidently a nest of extortion and jobbery, and if MACGREGOR thinks to keep up the little game without detection or exposure he is doomed to be miserably disappointed.

We inadvertently omitted, from the list of tax "takers," standing to the credit of "General" W. M. TWEED, Jr., that very good thing, the recovering of the Common-wealth Fire Insurance Company. This ever-ripe plum fell into his open mouth some six months ago, greatly to the despair of a number of unfortunate underwriters, whose prospects of regaining any of their money grew dark indeed when the appointment of a TWEED as the administrator of the estate was announced. How such an appointment ever came to be made, has been a standing mystery to insurance circles. But no matter how it occurred the position, there he is in complete control of the concerns of a company which had not far from $300,000 cash assets when it failed, of which sum $60,000 only were needed for the protection of policy-holders, and perhaps $80,000 more for the payment of unsettled losses. That the stockholders will ever see the first dollar of the $110,000 yet remaining in the widow of hypothecs; for a receivership, in such hands particularly, consumes time and money to an expeditive extent. Many a stockholder is likely to get safe beyond the need of cash before the Commonwealth ever reaches the dignity of a dividend. And even if this were not the case, if TWEED should conclude to do what no TWEED ever yet did, and let loose that teat before it was sucked dry, the least sum he would receive as his from would be $10,000 or $12,000. So that, upon fair and honest principles, his pay would be liberal for the period necessary to bring the Company to a close. But if the thing can be dragged along for five or six years, and at a cost, to everybody but the receiver, of $10,000 a year, why, who could expect a TWEED to sacrifice so good a thing as this?

The address issued by the German-American Republicans of this City, invites their Democratic brethren to co-operate with them in the work of local reform, is worthy of careful perusal. It is an exceedingly clear and concise statement of the reasons which ought to unite honest men of all parties in the present crisis of municipal affairs. The position they adopt is let us continue to be Republicans or Democrats in all that concerns the relations of the State to the country at large, but in choosing of the government of this great City, let us have but one end—as seems the best men we can find. Within this sphere distinctions of party must henceforth count for nothing, and honesty, independence and ability must be the only indispensable requisites of the candidates whom we select. Let the Germans cordially unite on this issue, and in alliance with others who have already adopted the same principles, they cannot fail to rescue New-York from its present state of political degradation.

It is no news to us that free institutions do not prevent drunkenness, although the accompanying education should do so. There is, however, a theory, pretty generally accepted, that insane intemperance in its worst phases either to the Anglo-Saxon or the more northerly races. Hence it is somewhat surprising to hear that in Switzerland the progress of drunkenness is so great that, in many agricultural and manufacturing communes, the municipal revenues are absorbed in relieving the wants of families whose heads have become habitual drunkards. In several places houses of correction are being built for the purpose of confining the poor wretches who have fallen victims to this vice. It is stated on good authority that in ten years there has been an increase of public houses in the single canton of Geneva amounting to thirty-four per cent., and that there is now one place where intoxicating drinks are sold for every seventy-two inhabitants.

Mr. R. H. HORNE, the author of "Orion," is engaged in an animated controversy on the subject of swimming. The bathing season has brought its usual casualties, and the consequent supply of letters, of advice and caution to the newspapers. Of these Mr. HORNE sent one to the Daily News, and a very sensible one it was. Yet it aroused the ire of a gentleman, who signs himself "Natator," and who attacks and ridicules the poet's letter. This has led Mr. HORNE to challenge "Natator" to a very remarkable trial of skill. He proposes that they shall meet at the Serpentine—or at the Wave, if "Natator" prefers it; that both shall be bound, hand and foot—the hands behind the back—and flung out of a boat into the water. The two are then to sink or swim for." a quarter of an hour or so." If either burst his bonds, or sail for help, or request to be taken out, he is to make a forfeiture of a certain sum, to be agreed upon, to the Royal Humane Society. Whether this queer proposition will be accepted or refused, has not yet appeared.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Republican Prospects in Ohio—The Tobacco Tax Law to be Enforced—Old Post-Office Records Revived—The Rodney Embezzlement—The Boston Cases.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A report came here from Cincinnati a day or two ago, that Mr. GROSVENOR and Mr. PENDLETON were to be among the candidates nominated by the Democrats in Hamilton County to the Legislature. It proved to be a mistake, and news of the actual nominations which were made, and the way in which they were received, gives all but assurance that the Republican ticket from that county will be elected. That the Republican ticket would be elected there has not been the slightest doubt, and now the choice of a Republican Legislature seems almost equally sure. The result of elections in other States gives hopes of even greater success in Ohio than has been anticipated by the most sanguine.

SEIZURE COLLECTION OF TOBACCO TAXES.

Supervisors DUTCHER of Brooklyn, DUTTON of Philadelphia, FULTON of Baltimore, FAY of Kentucky, CORWIN of the Southern District of Ohio, and PRESCOTT of Virginia, held consultation here today in regard to measures for the more perfect enforcement of the Tobacco Tax law. Supervisor PERRY of North Carolina, arrived this evening, and will be present at a further consultation to-morrow. The action will most probably be pleasant to a late revenue official, who is reported as saying that he did not like to smoke tax-paid cigars when he could easily procure others, nor to the persons who held the same sentiments.

THE ATLANTA POST-OFFICE REPALCATION.

The statement printed in the TIMES this morning regarding the Atlanta Post-office conveys a false impression. Instead of being a recent, it is a very old case. HARRIS, the defaulting Postmaster, was in office when the present Administration came into power, and his deficit was wholly contracted under the Johnson Administration. He was discovered, removed and arrested nearly two years ago, and has ever since been engaged in endeavoring to settle by seeking to have allowed certain improper charges, which have been rejected by the Auditor's Office. He is now under indictment, and will be tried for his offenses. It may also be added that HARRIS's defalcation began in that period of the last Administration, when a general laxity of official morality was inaugurated, and winked at by high authority.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mr. MORTON's hearing was concluded today at the Patent Office, except his counsel have permission to file affidavits tomorrow morning, which they expect from Troy, and counter-affidavits can be filed by the other side. The Trial Commission will report upon the facts to the Commissioner of Patents, who will make their report the basis of his action. The trial of persons arrested and indicted under the Kuklux law is in progress in Raleigh. There are about 100 cases to come before the present term of the County there. Attorney-General AKERMAN stopped in Raleigh a few days ago, as he was on his way to Georgia.

Dispatch to the Associated Press.

The Secretary of War has sent to the Judge-Advocate-General the communication of Gen. BEECH to the Adjutant-General detailing the circumstances of the Hodge defalcation, and the Secretary has directed the Judge-Advocate-General to prefer charges against Major HODGE. The application on behalf of HODGE to be relieved from close confinement, has been refused by the Secretary of War, and he will therefore remain as now in close custody at Fort McHenry. Pay-master-General BRICE called on the Secretary of War this morning, to say that he courted the fullest investigation into his official conduct in the administration of the affairs of the Pay Department, and especially with regard to the Hodge defalcation. Gen. BELKNAP has officially informed the Secretary of the Treasury of HODGE's defalcation, his arrest and imprisonment, and of the action looking to his trial by the military authorities. Secretary BOUTWELL is expected in Washington in a few days, his return being hastened by the developments in the Hodge defalcation case, and with a view to investigate the implications of the Treasurer's office in connection therewith. It is said by Treasury officials that there is no way by which the Treasurer's office can have knowledge of irregularities on defalcations by pay-masters, the only duty of the Treasurer being to honor all checks of pay-masters drawn on regular warrants to the extent of the credit of such pay-masters in his office.

OFFICIAL RETURNS REGARDING THE COTTON CROP.

The cotton crop reports purporting to have come from the Department of Agriculture during the past month have not been genuine. The items in circulation, often contradictory in tenor and assuming to be official, have had no origin in the statistical data of that office. The returns of September include reports from about 200 cotton-growing counties, representing a very large proportion of the cotton area. Those for August point to an average condition of the crops almost identical with that of the preceding reports; the averages for Alabama and Mississippi being the same; those of Louisiana and Tennessee being higher, and those of other cotton States lower. The State averages of the September report are somewhat lower than those of August, though the principal depreciation occurs in the States which yield a small proportion of the crop, while the reduction is slight in the important districts represented by the States of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. The percentage of full condition in the first week in September, as averaged from all the obtainable data, is thus stated: North Carolina, 82; South Carolina, 80; Georgia, 78; Florida, 78; Alabama, 80; Mississippi, 80; Louisiana, 77; Texas, 81; Arkansas, 86; Tennessee, 90.

Sale of the Elevated Railroad.

The Elevated Railroad, running through Greenwich-street and Ninth-avenue, or, as it is sometimes called, the West Side and Yonkers Road, has passed through some strange vicissitudes since its commencement on the 1st of August, 1867. The bill for its construction, which was introduced by Mr. CRANNE, was adopted in the early part of March, 1867. It was the first intended to have a double track, one running up the east side of the street and the other on the opposite side, but this plan was abandoned, and a single track, supported by iron posts, was laid, the motive power being a stationary engine, around the drum of which revolved an endless steel band attached to the cars. The road was laid as far up as Hester-street by February, 1868, and then, for a time, it seemed to stop work or it being entirely suspended. During the year, however, work recommenced, and in 1869 the track was completed to Thirtieth-street. The public for a long time were amused with announcements that on a certain day an experimental trip would be made over the road, and that then this road for public use would commence running. These promised, however, were never fulfilled. The Company found insuperable difficulties in the treatment of their cars by a stationary engine. The apparatus would not work precisely, though ingenious enough in its construction, and finally the Company had to admit that this mode of propulsion was a failure. Dummy engines were then tried, but the road never seemed to obtain the confidence of the public; they did not like its snidery and insecure look, and two accidents which occurred, one by a car falling off the track, and the other by the breaking of an axle, served still further to render the enterprise a doubtful one. Those who desired to get up-town seemed to think that the horse-cars were after all the preferable mode of doing so, and that being shot along at an elevation of thirty feet from the ground, even if a few minutes' time were gained thereby, was not a pleasant manner of traveling. Further, as passengers could only get on or off at certain points of the route, few cared to patronize the road, even as an experiment. The enterprise, therefore, languished. The members of the Ring, who had in the meantime got a bill for the Viaduct Road through the Legislature, presented the Elevated Railroad to the Grand Jury as a nuisance, though no further action was taken in the matter. No one was, however, surprised by reading, a short time afterward, that the road was to be sold by the Sheriff. It brought only the amount of its debt, and was purchased, as understood, for account of the bond-holders, DAVID DOWS and others. Now it is again to be sold, under an order of the Court of Common Pleas, and the probability is that it will soon be taken down and sold for old iron.

POLITICAL.

Ohio's Response to Maine's Greeting.

On Monday Speaker BLAINE telegraphed to the Chairman of the Republican Committee of Ohio a statement of the result of the election in Maine. The next day he received the following response:

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 13, 1871.

Hon. J. G. Blaine, Speaker of House of Representatives, Augusta, Me.:

Ohio rejoices with Maine in her grand Republican victory, and has determined to give in October the largest Republican majority of any State in 1871. R. D. HARRISON, Chairman Republican State Committee.

The California Election—Comments of the Republican Press.

California papers, received by yesterday's mail, comment at length upon the sweeping Republican victory in that State. The San Francisco Alta says that the people have not voted without thinking; that the last Legislature was probably the most corrupt that ever disgraced the State, which is saying much, and that the Democratic politicians thought the State was permanently in their power, and they could plunder right and left with impunity. The result of their delusion is known. The Bulletin says:

"California may be safely claimed as once more Republican. Indeed, at heart, the State has not been Democratic since the organization of the Union Party in 1862. The election of HAIGHT in 1867, which was due to local causes entirely, was followed by a majority for GRANT in 1868. Yet the Democratic delight could have from the State again this year had the administration been in all respects wise, just and prudent. Gov. HAIGHT himself has been an honest, well-meaning man, and has prevented some wrongs; but he has been a strong partisan, and has exhibited certain inconsistencies which exposed him both to criticism and ridicule. His early record on the municipal question, which he sought to make the leading issue, was at variance with his later utterances, and these, sincere as they undoubtedly were, offended many of his own party, while the Republicans neutralized them completely by nominating BOOTE on a strong anti-subsidy platform. There was no very well defined local issue on which to intrench the victories which the Democrats had the advantage, while the bad legislation of their party, their manifest lack of sympathy with the National Government, their development of sectarian and race prejudices, put them on the defensive, which is always a weak position. They further weakened themselves by extreme partisanship and inferior nominations; but the people, and he failing to squarely meet public opinion on several matters of municipal policy. They have fairly earned their defeat, aside from all political considerations. These, of course, contributed to it, for many Union Democrats who had voted with them four years ago, felt that they were prostituted, and that illiberal and reactionary ideas controlled the organization. Many German Democrats, also, were driven off by the exclusive sympathy shown for the French in the late war, coupled with much offensive criticism of the Fatherland. As the last straw which broke the camel's back, the colored voters, numbering not less than 1,500 in the State, went nearly to a man for the great party that had enfranchised them."

Congressional Aspirants in Illinois.

Illinois will elect, in November, a Congressman for the State at large, in place of Gen. LOGAN, who has been transferred to the United States Senate, and a Congressman in the Sixth District in place of Hon. BURTON C. COOK, resigned. The Chicago Journal says that the candidates for the Republican nomination in the Sixth District, so far as it has learned, are Judge C. B. SHARP, of Kankakee County; Senator W. P. PIERCE, of Grundy; Senator Henry SNAPP, of Will, and Wash BUSHNELL and D. L. HOUGH, of La Salle. The candidates for the nomination for Congressman-at-Large are Joseph MEDILL and Gen. J. L. BEVERIDGE, of Cook County; Senator BOYD, of Fulton County; Col. Clark E. CARR, of Knox; S. W. HOULTON, of Shelby; S. M. CULLOM and Isaac K. DUBOIS, of Sangamon; Gen. MCNULTA, of McLean, and Daniel W. MANN, of Alexander County. Ex-Gov. OGLESBY is not a candidate.

Political Brevities.

A large meeting of the James O'Brien Association was held last evening at No. 970 Avenue C, for the purpose of nominating JAMES O'BRIEN as Senator for the Seventh District, and THOMAS FEELY as Assemblyman. Mr. FEELY made an address, denouncing CONNOLLY and HALL, which drew forth some interruptions from a Tammany roust, who would have been severely handled but for Mr. FEELY's interference.

The Seventeenth Assembly District Republican Association, last evening chose the following delegates to the Syracuse Convention: Col. JOEL W. MASON, BENJ. K. PHELPS, and BENJ. J. FIELEY. Resolutions were passed congratulating the Republicans on the reorganization of the party in New-York, thanking the NEW-YORK TIMES for its exposure of the Tammany frauds, and rejoicing at the recent Republican victories, which foreshadow the re-election of Gen. GRANT in 1872.

At a meeting of the Ninth Assembly District, last evening, the following delegates were elected to the Syracuse Convention: James W. Booth, James W. Farr, William H. Gadney and Jacob L. Dodge. Alternates—E. M. Traphagan, E. M. Collard, George Topf and Mathew Kane. Resolutions were passed congratulating California and other States on the success of the Republican cause, and indorsing Gen. GRANT for re-election.

At the Hudson County Democratic Convention yesterday, JOHN B. MCPHERSON was nominated for Senator; JOHN BRENNERT for Sheriff, and WM. BUNUS, WM. PARSLOW and Dr. BEARS for Coroners.

The election of delegates from Worcester, Mass., to the Republican State Convention, resulted in the choice of twenty-four delegates who are extremely hostile to BUTLER, and are in preference divided between JEWELL and WASHBURN.

Mr. GALLEGHAS, the Democratic candidate for Congress from New-Mexico, is probably elected by about 800 majority.

AMUSEMENTS.

Musical.

THE SEASON OF ENGLISH OPERA.

The musical incidents of the coming Winter are sufficiently numerous to delight even a dilettante accustomed to the glories of London and Paris. Italian opera, German opera, English opera, ballad concerts, oratorio nights, and symphonic soirées are all on the list of promised attractions in New-York. The latest official announcement in regard to these matters concerns the series of performances of English opera at the Academy of Music. The printed preface to the season is of unusual eloquence. If Mme. PAREPA-ROSA, as Directress, devotes more space to introducing her artists than herself, she can do so securely in the certainty that her record in art is too extended and too honorable to have passed, so soon, out of recollection. The return, after a year's absence, of this eminent artist, is, after all, the fittest subject for congratulation the programme of arrangements suggests to us. The debut of Mme. VANZINI, fresh from Covent Garden, and only to sing here, we believe, ad interim, is also suited to awaken agreeable anticipations. That of Miss CLARA DORIA, a daughter of Mr. JOHN BARNETT, the distinguished composer, is expected to reveal a young artist of great accomplishments and culture. Among the new-comers whose names follow, in the prospectus before us, those mentioned above, are Mr. TOM KARL, Mr. AYNSLEY COOKE, and Mr. ELLIS RYSE. Mr. TOM KARL hails from La Scala, in Milan, where he interpreted the leading part in PERSELLA's new opera of "I Promessi Sposi," founded on MANZONI's exquisite romance bearing the same title. This fact implies that we may expect from Mr. TOM KARL something more than the ballad-singing which English-opera tenors, as a rule, dismiss by the name of lyric personations. As for Mr. AYNSLEY COOKE, he has a most enviable reputation in England as a baritone and basso cantante, and Mr. ELLIS RYSE is presented as that most rare of operatic birds, a genuine basso profondo. In the way of re-engagement, the management has secured the services of almost all the artists who for the past few years have been before the public. Mrs. ZELDA SEGUIN, Mr. WILLIAM CASTLE, Mr. S. C. CAMPBELL, Mr. EDWARD SEGUIN, and Mr. GUSTAVUS HALL, are to reappear, and Mr. THOMAS WERRITH and Mrs. ATHERLEY COOKE, have been added to the company. The orchestra will of course, be under the direction of Mr. CARL ROSA, than whom it would be difficult to find a more thorough musician or a more industrious and conscientious gentleman. The season during which the promise of these announcements will be fulfilled begins, we have only to add, at the Academy of Music on Oct. 2. "The Daughter of the Regiment" will be sung on that date, with Mme. PAREPA-ROSA, Mr. KARL and Mr. COOKE. At the outset of the ensuing week, Mme. VANZINI and Miss DORIA will be heard in "Satanella," which opera, as a whole, has never been interpreted in this country. At a later stage of affairs, "Anna Bolena," in English attire, will be produced, "The Water Carrier," by CHERUBINI, coming next as another genuine novelty. The most exacting amateur, we should say, ought to be satisfied with such an outlook.

A Chance Still for Hackett—His Execution Postponed.

Nine o'clock, yesterday morning, was the hour fixed for the execution of BUCKHOUT, at White Plains, and the Sheriff had made all the necessary preparations for carrying out the sentence of the law, when, at the last moment, an order to postpone the execution was received by the Sheriff from Judge PRATT, of Brooklyn. BUCKHOUT's case is to be brought before the Supreme Court of the Second Judicial District.

THE GREAT THEOLOGICAL WORK OF THE AGE.

THE FIRST VOLUME OF

DR. HODGE'S SYSTEM OF THEOLOGY.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY.

By CHARLES HODGE, D. D., of Princeton Theological Seminary.

To be completed in three volumes 8vo. Tinted paper. Price per volume, in cloth, $4 50.

In these volumes are comprised the results of the life-long labors and investigations of one of the ablest theologians of the age. The work covers the ground usually occupied by treatises on Systematic Theology, and adopts the commonly-received divisions of the subject: Theology, (Vol. I.,) Anthropology, (Vol. II.,) Soteriology and Eschatology, (Vol. III.)

The various topics ranged under these different divisions are discussed with that close and keen analytical and logical power, combined with that simplicity, lucidity and strength of style, which have already given Dr. Hodge a world-wide reputation as a controversialist and writer and as an investigator of the great theological problems of the day.

N. B.—Volume I. of Dr. Hodge's SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY is now ready; Volume II. will be published in November, and Volume III. is in preparation.

PARIS UNDER THE COMMUNE;

OR,

THE SEVENTY-THREE DAYS OF THE SECOND SIEGE.

WITH

UPWARD OF 100 ILLUSTRATIONS, SKETCHES TAKEN ON THE SPOT, PORTRAITS FROM THE ORIGINAL PHOTOGRAPHS, AND BEAUTIFUL MAP OF PARIS, SHOWING THE DAMAGED AND BURNT LOCALITIES, &c. &c.

By JOHN LEIGHTON, F. S. A.

Square crown 8vo; attractively bound in cloth extra, gilt top, $4.

 To the law-abiding and English-speaking races, the great drama of the Commune must be intensely interesting—a drama not without its moral—and one that the French people believe, in their optimism, has been played on their soil for the benefit of the human race. Be it so! And may the scenes enacted upon the theatre of Paris prove of benefit to all; for the denouement has been terrible enough, and the whole most costly. The illustrations in the work include views of all prominent localities, palaces and monuments, portraits of eminent Communists, Generals and statesmen; sketches on the spot of contemporaneous events, &c., &c., rendering it of great interest to the general reader as well as of permanent historical value.

Early orders requested from the trade.

PUBLISHED THIS DAY:

I. HOW TO DO IT.

BY EDWARD EVERETT HALE, Author of "The Man Without a Country," "Inglesid Papers." 2mo. 1 vol. 16mo. $1 25.

This is a most attractive and a highly valuable book. Mr. Hale has made use of his extended observation and large experience to give practical suggestions to young people in regard to talking, writing, writing, traveling, school life, choice of the most important matters, that can engage their attention. His thorough understanding of the tastes and needs of young persons and his perfect sympathy with them give his book great value, while his fertility of illustration and the peculiar attractiveness of his style render it deeply engaging.

II. MY WITNESS: A BOOK OF VERSE.

By WILLIAM WINTER. 16mo. $1 50.

A volume which cannot fail to attract the admiring attention of all lovers of poetry. It includes poems on a wide variety of themes, and characterized by a brilliancy, vigor and delicacy of touch seldom surpassing. Not a few of these poems have already gained a high degree of favor in the best circle of American readers; others now first offered to the world are sure to win a like flattering judgment.

III. THE MEMBER FOR PARIS;

A Novel of the Second Empire.

1 vol. 8vo. Paper, 75 cents; cloth, $1 25.

This is a story of political, literary and social life in Paris during the Second Empire. It describes the intolerable petty tyrannies and inquisitorial practices by which the history of Louis Napoleon's Government was distinguished, and is concerned with equal precision the purposes and tactics of the Opposition, and blends with these a charming personal story. The book is written with remarkable power and is of absorbing interest.

"The pictures of Parisian society are thoroughly life-like, and such as only an intimate knowledge of it would enable any writer to depict."—The Athenæum, (London.)

EIGHT YEARS' EXPERIENCE OF MOTHERS' ME

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

At the Exchange, yesterday, JOSEPH McGUIRE, by order of the Supreme Court in partition, under the direction of JAMES H. COLEMAN, Esq., referee, disposed of the property located on the south-west corner of Downing and Bedford streets, known as No. 36 Downing and No. 38 Bedford, embracing a lot 25 by 75, with two three-story brick buildings thereon, renting at the rate of $2,100 per annum. The premises were purchased by NATHAN ABRAHAMS for $27,300, which was considered a very low figure. No further business was transacted.

In reference to the sale of lots at Passaic, N. J., on Thursday last, conducted by A. D. MELLICK, Jr. & BROTHER, the result was not, on the whole, as satisfactory as was expected. 300 persons were in attendance at the auction, but an indisposition being manifested on the part of buyers to make bids approximating to the value of the realty, only some twenty-seven city lots of the 200 offered were sold, at an average price of about $100 per lot.

For today, at the Exchange, or elsewhere, no sales are projected, and the next sale by any of these auction firms of importance of which notices have appeared next week are the following: An executor's sale on Tuesday, by ALLEN & BROWN, at the Exchange, of Broome-street improved property in this City; lots at West Morrisania and Grove Hill, Westchester County, and lots at Newark, N. J.; a peremptory closing sale, on 4 acres of land, with four farm cottages, located at Mamaroneck, Westchester County, and comprising the unsold portion of the "Grand Park" property, will be sold.

Also, on Tuesday, by S. DIGGER & Co., and a sale of 300 villa plots, situate at Closter, N. J., will be offered on the same day by A. D. MELLICK, Jr., & BROTHER. The two last-named auctions will take place on the ground. Particulars in regard to these auctions, as well as a list of minor transactions projected, will be published on Monday as usual.

Messrs. V. K. STEVENSON & SON, No. 11 Pine-street report having privately sold at private sale two full-sized lots on the north side of One Hundred and Thirty-third-street, 366 feet west of Fifth-avenue, for $6,000.

$1,000,000

Connecticut Valley Railroad Company

BONDS!

Proposals will be received at the Connecticut River Banking Company, in Hartford, until 3 o'clock P. M. Saturday, Sept. 23, 1871, for the purchase of the whole or any part of

ONE MILLION DOLLARS

Of the First Mortgage Seven per Cent. Non-Taxable Bonds of the Connecticut Valley Railroad Company.

This is the whole issue, the first and only mortgage, and covers the entire property, equipment and franchises of the line from River to River.

The railroad has been built with cash subscriptions to the stock.

The Capital Stock is $1,500,000, all paid in, upon which dividends of 7 per cent. are now paid, and the Bonds are issued for the complete and thorough equipment of the road.

These Bonds are payable thirty years from Jan. 1, 1871.

They are registered at the office of the Controller of the State of Connecticut, and are free from all taxes, State, municipal and United.

They are in denominations of $1,000 each, with Semi-annual coupons attached, payable until-annually, in January and July at the American Exchange National Bank, New-York, or Connecticut River Banking Company, Hartford, Conn.

They can be registered, if desired, and when registered the coupons are payable to the order of the registered holder thereof.

The line of the road is on the west bank of the Connecticut River, from Long Island Sound, at Saybrook, 35 miles from Hartford to Bay Beach on the Sound—touching all the important towns and villages on the route.

Regular passenger trains were running within fifteen months from the beginning of work on the road, the earnings from which are nearly equal to the interest on the Mortgage Bonds.

Two additional passenger trains and also freight trains will be in operation by Oct. 15th, and it is already estimated that they will be large.

A certified check or currency for ten per cent. of the par value of Bonds applied for must be inclosed with each application.

The accrued Interest will be added to all accepted proposals, from July 1, 1871, until the final payment, WHICH MAY BE AT THE OPTION OF THE PURCHASER, until and including Oct. 10, 1871.

The time allowed on proposals declined will be promptly returned.

Proposals may be addressed to

JOHN A. BUTLER,

Connecticut River Banking Company, Hartford, Conn., indorsed "Proposals for Bonds of the Connecticut Valley Railroad Company."

The right is reserved to decline all proposals which may be considered undesirable.

NOTICE.

REDEMPTION OF 5-20 BONDS 1862.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, Sept. 1, 1871.

By virtue of the authority given by an act of Congress approved July 14, 1870, entitled "An Act to authorize the refunding of the national debt," I hereby give notice that the principal and accrued interest of the bonds herein below designated, known as Five-Twenty Bonds, will be paid at the Treasury of the United States, in the City of Washington, on or after the 1st day of December next, and that the interest on said bonds will cease on that day. That is to say, Coupon Bonds known as the First Series, act of Feb. 25, 1862, dated May 1, 1862, numbered as follows:

1 to 50,000, inclusive, of $100 each.
1 to 40,000 inclusive, of 500 each.
1 to 40,000 inclusive, of 1,000 each.
1 to 7,000 inclusive, of 5,000 each.

And Registered Bonds of the same act:

1 to 900, inclusive, of $50 each.
1 to 4,100, inclusive, of 100 each.
1 to 1,000, inclusive, of 500 each.
1 to 2,000, inclusive, of 1,000 each.
1 to 2,000, inclusive, of 5,000 each.
1 to 2,000, inclusive, of 10,000 each.

The amount outstanding (embracing all the numbers as above) is $514,000,000 [$100,000,000] dollars. Coupon Bonds of the act of Feb. 25, 1862, were issued in four distinct series. Bonds of the First Series (embracing those described above) do not bear the series designation. Those of the Second, Third, and Fourth Series are distinctly marked on the face of the bonds.

Interest on these securities forwarded for redemption should be addressed to "LOAN DIVISION," Secretary's Office.

J. F. HARTLEY, Acting Secretary.

FINANCIAL.

First Mortgage, Convertible, 7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds

ON THE

PEORIA & ROCK ISLAND RAILWAY

OF ILLINOIS.

First Mortgage Bonds - - - $1,500,000
Capital Stock - - - - - - - - 2,000,000

This is a COMPLETED Road 91 miles in length, connecting the important Cities of Peoria on the Illinois River, and Rock Island, Moline and Davenport, on the Mississippi. Davenport, on the opposite bank of the river, is connected by a railway bridge. The last rail of this road was laid July 7, 1871, and the line is now open and being operated with a success exceeding all anticipation. In order to place upon the road the large equipment necessary for the business offered, and to construct depots, car shops, engine-houses, machine-shops, &c., equal to any of the best old roads in the country, as is now required of this, the Company offer, through the undersigned, $1,500,000 convertible first mortgage gold bonds, which cover the entire property of the Company, and is less than $17,000 per mile. PRESENT PRICE, 90, AND ACCRUED INTEREST IN CURRENCY. Principal and interest payable in gold at New-York or London, free of tax.

This road, opened for the immense local as well as through traffic, now offered, (will prove one of the most profitable in the West, traversing as it does a section of country unsurpassed in fertility of soil and agricultural resources, already thickly populated and in a high state of cultivation. This is self-evident from the fact that every section of the road passes through cultivated fields and many flourishing towns and villages, with a large city and navigable river at each end. Railroads in the West have been heretofore constructed through unsettled and uncultivated regions of the country, consequently have had but little local traffic to depend upon for several years after construction. But the Peoria and Rock Island Railway is a first-class COMPLETED road, with NO PARALLEL or COMPETING LINE, and RUNS THROUGH ONE OF THE RICHEST AGRICULTURAL, MANUFACTURING AND MOST POPULOUS DISTRICTS IN THE WEST. Thus it is certain that the local business is already more than enough to sustain the road, while the through traffic is unlimited, as its connections are numerous, which can be seen by a glance at the map.

This road is a grand central link, to which many of the principal lines centralize and diverge to all parts of the continent.

We invite the attention of investors to this bond. Being familiar with the wealth and resources of the country along the line of this railway and A MEMBER OF OUR FIRM HAVING MADE A CAREFUL EXAMINATION OF THE ROAD AND ITS PROPERTY, WE CAN WITH THE UTMOST CONFIDENCE RECOMMEND THE BONDS AS A PRIME SECURITY, reliable and safe in every particular.

All marketable securities received in exchange at full rates, and bonds delivered to all parts of the country, free of express charges.

Maps, circulars, &c., with full particulars relating to the road, furnished on application by the undersigned, Financial Agents of the Company.

EIGHT PER CENT.

First Mortgage Bonds

MOBILE & MONTGOMERY

RAILROAD COMPANY,

Indorsed by State of Alabama.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD.

After a careful examination, we confidently recommend these bonds, because—

1. They are a first mortgage upon a road already completed and in successful operation, which net earnings, well established for several years, as MUCH MORE THAN ENOUGH TO PAY THE INTEREST on all the bonds authorized to be issued.

2. The proceeds of these bonds will complete an extension of fifteen miles of heavy work from Tensas into the City of Mobile, DISPENSING WITH PRESENT STEAM-BOAT SERVICE, CURTAILING EXPENSE AND INCREASING EFFICIENCY OF THE ROAD.

3. The road is 178 miles long. Entire mortgage, $2,800,000, or a little over $15,000 PER MILE; COST OF ROAD OVER $20,000 PER MILE.

4. It connects MOBILE and MONTGOMERY, and is a link in the route from NEW-ORLEANS to NEW-YORK, and is, between Mobile and LOUISVILLE, by the insured completion of the road from MONTGOMERY north to DECATUR, being built by the LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE RAILROAD COMPANY, who thus display their estimate of the value of the route.

5. They are indorsed and guaranteed by the STATE OF ALABAMA, in the value of whose investment has been recently tested and fully established.

6. Some of the most careful investors in ENGLAND and this country, after investigation, have bought these bonds for permanent investment, so that now only about $1,000,000 are on the market, which are for sale at present at 86 and ACCRUED INTEREST, by

SOUTH CAROLINA RAILROAD COMPANY
SEVEN PER CENT. FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

Principal due 1st January, 1890, and coupons payable in New-York 1st January and 1st July.

These bonds are secured by Mortgage to Furnesse of a deed executed on the 1st of January, 1869, in which Henry Gourdin, H. F. Walker and James M. Calder are named trustees, being the only mortgage lien on the railway and rolling stock of the corporation, and are part of an issue made in connection of sterling bonds amounting to £618,200 sterling, being the equivalent in United States currency to about $3,160,000, and less than $13,000 per mile, the length of railway being 152 miles.

The gross receipts of the Company for 1870 amounted to $1,461,940 82; operating expenses and renewals, $914,182 82, showing a profit of $552,244 71, or $350,244 71 in excess of its annual interest of 7 per cent. on $2,100,000 First Mortgage Bonds.

The South Carolina Railway is one of the earliest built railways in the United States; its affairs have ever been managed with care and integrity, and the present condition of the property is that of complete restoration. We recommend to investors its Mortgage Bonds, with the assurance of their being a first class security.

The above described bonds are offered for sale by the undersigned at 87½ per cent.

$150,000 NEW-JERSEY INVESTMENT.

VINELAND RAILWAY BONDS.

$10,000 per mile, Seven per Cent., free of tax; interest due April and October. Principal payable 1890.

The undersigned offers the unsold balance of the First and only Mortgage Bonds of the Vineland Railway Company. The entire Loan being $750,000.

The line lies at the terminus of the New-Jersey Southern Railroad, and extends to the Delaware River, is 47½ miles, and traverses the garden of New-Jersey—almost the entire length passing through a rich and cultivated country,—the produce of which will be brought to Philadelphia and New-York by this line.

The flourishing towns of Vineland and Bridgeton are on the route.

On the opposite shore of the Delaware River the Smyrna Road is constructing, and will form a part of a through line to Baltimore.

Thirty-seven miles are now operated, and the remaining ten miles will be laid by Sept. 20.

The road-bed is not surpassed in the United States. Traffic constantly increasing.

The investment is secure beyond question. For a short time the price will be 88 and accrued interest.

WE OFFER FOR SALE

The First Mortgage Seven Per Cent. Gold Bonds

OF THE

MINNEAPOLIS & DULUTH RAILROAD CO., AT 87 1-2 AND INTEREST.

This line (thirteen miles in length) was completed last month from the thriving manufacturing towns of Minneapolis and St. Anthony to White Bear Station, on the Lake Superior and Mississippi Railroad, which latter Company has recently, by the guarantee of the bonds and agreed to provide a sinking fund that will insure them all or before maturity.

This route furnishes a long-desired outlet for the immense produce of the flouring mills of Minneapolis, via Duluth and the great Lakes; and will in return accommodate a large volume of Western-bound traffic.

The yearly average product of flour of the mills at St. Anthony and Minneapolis during the past three years has been 250,000 barrels, of which four-fifths has been sent by rail to Milwaukee and Chicago, a distance of 400 miles, or upward; whereas the distance by rail from Minneapolis to Duluth is 167 miles, and all-water carriage from this point to New-York is substantially the same as from Milwaukee or Chicago.

The opening of this new channel has already rendered the making of flour more profitable than heretofore at Minneapolis, and has so stimulated the trade that it is confidently believed the millers at that point will by degrees increase their capacity, now estimated at 1,000,000 barrels a year.

FIRST MORTGAGE EIGHT PER CENT. BONDS OF THE ATLANTIC AND RICHMOND AIR LINE RAILWAY.

Mortgage, $10,000 per mile.

Interest payable in New-York 1st January and 1st July.

We offer for sale the above bonds, secured by a first and only mortgage on the entire property of the road, extending from Charlotte, N. C., to Atlanta, Ga., a distance of 226 miles, and forming the most important link in the shortest line between New-York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and all the cities of the Eastern States, and the Gulf cities of Mobile and New-Orleans and Southern Louisiana, and connecting at Montgomery with the line of road running east and west through the centre of the richest cotton-growing section of Alabama and Mississippi, and to connect at Marshall, Texas, with the Southern Pacific Railroad when completed. Passing, as the road does, through a good country, well populated, with its north-western terminus at Atlanta, a thriving city of 35,000 inhabitants, the local business of the road must prove profitable. These bonds may be registered at the request of the holder.

Price, for the present, at and accrued interest.

Any further information desired will be furnished by LANCASTER, BROWN & CO., No. 1 Exchange court, Exchange-place, near Broadway.

BOARD AT CORNWALL,

NEW-JERSEY RAILROADS.

Western Division of the Erie Road—New Route to Niagara Falls—The West Jersey—The Central—Other New Railroads.

A pronounced verdict of approval is rapidly gaining strength among the people of the State of New-Jersey regarding the progressive condition of its railroads—the great work which has been accomplished within a year or two past, as well as the marked changes and improvements which are in contemplation and in course of prosecution along the routes of the various lines with which the little State is covered. Certain branches of this work seem just now confined to different parts of the State. In the southern and western region the railway companies are doing well by changing their rails and substituting first-class new material for that which has been in service for some length of time. This is a noticeable feature with the Southern Railroad Company just now, as has already been detailed. In other sections of the State the march of railroad improvement assumes the shape of new and well-constructed bridges, improved gear of various kinds, and the laying of new tracks on new routes, the construction of new cars, &c. An unmistakable air of business pervades the entire railroad atmosphere of New-Jersey, and it assumes that tangible shape which, coupled with the vigor and energy of the railway officials, gives to the people at large warm confidence in the ultimate triumph of their little corner of the world, raising its little head as the railroad centre of the East.

Detailed statements of affairs connected with the Southern Railway and the Northern or Eastern Division of the Erie Roads have already been presented in these columns, and have had the effect of showing the people the healthy condition of railway enterprise in the State so far as these two Companies are concerned. Of the enterprise of the Erie Railway Company, it would be a work of supererogation to write. Its great success has long established the reputation of its officers and men as persons whose great energy and determination, as well as railway business tact, entitled them to the confidence and patronage of the public. A new and decidedly attractive feature of improvements on the Erie Road is the recent completion and opening of a direct route from the City of New-York to Niagara Falls and Suspension Bridge, which opens up an eligible avenue of transportation for tourists and pleasure seekers to these very attractive places. This route comes under the designation of the Niagara Falls division of the Erie Railway, and communicates direct from Buffalo, the recent western terminus of the Erie Road proper, with Niagara Falls and the bridge. The management of the road has placed on the line the very best of material in the way of coaches for passengers. The magnificent sleeping and drawing-room coaches which this line has projected are the admiration of the traveling world. They combine all the comforts and elegance of aristocratic saloons, without any of the distressing annoyance to which those who travel by the railway are generally subjected. The patronage of the road is very large just at present—a great number of people availing themselves of the cheap excursion and visiting the great American centre of rural attraction and beauty. Four express trains are run daily over the road, reaching Niagara Falls a considerable time in advance of the trains running over other roads. The Erie line has introduced and uses almost exclusively the Wood gauge.

The West Jersey Railway, which is under the superintendence of Mr. T. J. YORKE, of Camden, has contracted the spirit of improvement which animates the other roads. The West Jersey line stretches from Camden to Bridgeton, at which point it connects with the new Vineland Railway, which is just being completed to the Delaware River. A depot nearly opposite the City of Baltimore, in West Jersey, has the branches off at Glassboro and runs on thence to Vineland, the eastern terminus of the Vineland road proper, thence on to Millville, thence south-easterly to Mount Pleasant, and on to Cape May. The road is in popular favor just now, and is transporting a large number of tourists and pleasure-seekers. The people of Camden, Philadelphia, and surrounding places find it the most convenient vehicle of communication with that very popular Summer resort, Cape May, and intermediate points of consequence. The Company displays a deal of energy in keeping the road in fine condition, and its stock is one of the best in the western portion of the State. A noticeable side of emigration is setting westward into Jersey from various points, and the West Jersey Road is doing its fair share of work in the transportation of these newcomers to their scenes. The section of country here is rich and productive, and holds out to emigrants peculiar inducements for the trial of their thrift as farmers and general tillers of the ground. Much is being done in the way of changing the aspect of the country thereabouts in the substitution of evidences of industry and labor in the shape of little farms with their grain-fields, fruit-patches, and flower-gardens, for the density of wooded districts, and marshy sections of land. The railroads, and their enterprise in extending their lines and rendering more complete the easy, quick and safe transportation for the traveling public, exercise a remarkable influence on this change in the character of the country. In fact the improvement in the way of opening of hitherto unsettled districts of the State, is mainly due to the efforts of the railway managers.

The Central Railroad of New-Jersey is too well known to require comment as to the excellence of its managers. It is popular, and consequently largely patronized. It has ever made a point of keeping up with the times, and has its stock and material always in the best of order, and like the Erie line, gives the public generally the benefit of prompt time, quick and safe running, and desirable cars.

The Newark and New-York Road, which was recently put into operation, is rapidly gaining popular favor. It covers but a short span of ground, and has not the advantages or room for any extensive operations. It daily transports a very large number of people to and from Newark. The general character of its officials, the men employed on the road, the stock and the time, give great satisfaction, and enhance the value of its shares by greatly increasing the aggregate of general travel. The road is well equipped just at present, and the officials of the Company claim for it a general condition equal to, if not surpassing, any previous time since the projection of the road.

There is no special mention to be made of the South Branch Road, the Camden and Atlantic, the Pemberton and Hightstown Road, the Salem Road, or of the West Jersey. The
